Lowell Residents up to Municipal Council

At a membership luncheon of the chamber of commerce in the New American restaurant at noon today, Pres. Harold L. Chaffoux read the text of an initiative petition asking the municipal council to authorize the construction of streets by contractors. Nearly all of the 125 members present signified their willingness to take part in the work of gathering signatures for the petitions.

The petition is as follows:

"Lowell, Mass., May 21, 1921.
To the Municipal Council:
We, the undersigned voters of said city, qualified to vote at city elections, hereby request your honorable board, under the provisions of section 50 of chapter 815 of the acts of 1911, to pass the following measure, to wit:
"An order determining the policy of the department of streets and highways in the construction and reconstruction of street surfaces.
"Be it ordered, that no contract for construction or reconstruction of streets or sidewalks with stone, block, brick, macadam, concrete, or other permanent pavement of similar lasting character shall be done except in accordance with a contract duly entered into between the city and some person, firm or corporation. Such contract shall be entered into only after bids therefor have been called for, by public advertisement and shall contain such legal provision for the employment of laborers of persons resident of Lowell as the municipal council shall approve."

"The speaker explained the methods to be used in getting signatures to the petitions. "We should have at least 400 names of voters," he said; "that is quite a bunch; we can get them though; there is no question about that. This is not an activity of the board of directors alone; everyone of

Members Have Decided
Previous to reading the petition, Pres. Chaffoux addressed the members, saying that the referendum was submitted to them had made it plain that they had decided that better streets could only be obtained by making it obligatory on the street department that future construction work shall be done by contract. He said that large numbers of votes in the affirmative, cast in the referendum, was in the nature of a surprise. It shows that you want this movement put through, he asserted.

The speaker explained the methods to be used in getting signatures to the petitions. "We should have at least 400 names of voters," he said; "that is quite a bunch; we can get them though; there is no question about that. This is not an activity of the board of directors alone; everyone of

TERROR TO MOONSHINERS

Mysterious Police Representative Nemesis to Dealers in Outlaw Tanglefoot

That phrase so well known to illicit traffickers in "shine," and so often pronounced by Judge Earhart in the local police court, as the result of the tireless slouching of the liquor squad, was heard again this morning.

"One hundred dollars fine," quoth His Honor, when Mina Rouleau, proprietress of a lodging-house situated on Lee street, appeared before him charged with illicit sale, and pleaded guilty. Counsel for the defendant accepted the fine without appeal, and the municipal coffers were enriched.

It was all on account of the mysterious police representative, now working with the raiding squad, that the Rouleau woman was haled before the bar of justice. This man, who

COUNSEL FOR BERGDOLL
HELD IN CONTEMPT

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Harry Weinberger of New York, counsel for Graver Cleveland Bergdoll in court martial proceedings, was ordered before the bar of the house of representatives today for contempt after refusing to testify before the house investigating committee regarding fees paid him by Bergdoll's mother.

Weinberger challenged the right of the committee to investigate the escape of Bergdoll on the ground that he never had been indicted into the army. Chairman Peters brushed aside the contention, declaring it was entirely aside from the question at issue. Asked how much money had been paid him by Mrs. Bergdoll, Weinberger refused to answer, contending it was not relative and was privileged matter. When the witness refused to produce books, Representative Johnson, of Kentucky, moved that he be held in contempt. There was no objection.

gall stones and appendicitis and was said to be recovering when heart disease, from which he had suffered from time to time, during the past eight months, developed. Hospital physicians expressed the belief that the operation would remove the heart affection but an attack early today developed fatally.

Immediately after he had recovered from the influences of the anæsthetic he said: "I am surprised to be alive. I hope to be able to live a long life doing good things for others without thought of money. He left to estate After his resignation from the Wilson cabinet, Mr. Lane sought to recover his health and came here in January of this year. He was advised to spend the winter in a warmer climate and visited California, returning early this month. His condition was favorable for an operation and continued improvement was noted until the heart attack today.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Chief Justice White of the United States supreme court, whose condition became suddenly grave, yesterday after an operation in which he submitted last Friday, continued at the point of death this morning with attending physicians expecting the end at any moment.

The doctors issued the following bulletin at 10 a. m. today:
"Chief Justice White was operated upon Friday last. Although in a serious condition for some months past, he postponed the operation and he felt his presence at the court was imperative. His progress was satisfactory with normal pulse and temperature until Tuesday afternoon when acute dilatation of the heart occurred. He has not rallied from this condition and his recovery is not expected."

At noon the physicians said there had been no change in the patient's condition, and that he might last through today and tonight, but that there was nothing upon which to base an alteration from their previous diagnosis.

WOULD WIPE
JAPAN OFF MAPResult if Country Should Engage in Fight to Finish
With U. S., Says GleasonDeclares "Only Those 'in Kindergarten of International Affairs Can See War'"

CHICAGO, May 18.—A fight to a finish between the United States and Japan would result in Japan being "wiped off the map," George Gleason, International Y.M.C.A. secretary who has just returned from a trip to the far east, declared today in addressing the congress on reduction of armaments.

He said that "only those 'in the kindergarten of international affairs could picture the possibility of war between this country and Japan," and that coming all the friction growing out of the sale of Yop, Korea, China and California would not furnish the remotest cause for war.

"Even if there were a cause," he continued, "a real fight to a finish between the two nations would put Japan off the map. The island empire might capture the Philippines, Hawaii, even a part of our west coast, but when the mighty resources and technical skill of this vast continent were once mobilized, Japan, unable to draw on bankrupt Europe, would be literally starved to her knees."

"The Japanese themselves know it and none better than the army men," Gleason said. "Japan's Monroe doctrine for Asia, though often criticized, should meet with American approval. When the smoke of war has cleared away and the world's nerves become relaxed, we may see that Japan's policy for Asia is the same as our stand for the open door of equal opportunities."

LICENSE IS TAKEN AWAY

Registrar Inaugurates New Policy Regarding Defective
Auto Lights

The license to operate an automobile, issued to Victor N. Shult of Billerica, was revoked today by the register of motor vehicles in Boston.

Shult was involved in an auto accident in Gorham street, East Chelmsford, March 2, in which three women, Mrs. Helen A. Fuller of 1524 Gorham street and Mrs. George Briggs and Mrs. Scobie were injured.

Mrs. Fuller died as a result of the injuries that she received. At an inquest held by Judge John J. Pickman it was decided that Shult was not criminally liable for the death. Cases charging Shult with operating an auto without a license, with driving recklessly, and with manslaughter are to be heard in the police court next Monday. It is expected that the manslaughter charge will be dismissed.

The revocation of Shult's license, it is announced, inaugurates a new policy to be followed by the register of motor vehicles in dealing with similar cases. During his investigation the register found that Shult's auto was not properly equipped with lights, that the reflector was in poor condition and that the amount of light thrown ahead of the machine was so small that the operator was unable to see the victim until an instant before he struck her.

In all future cases of accidents, it is stated, in which inferior lights are found to have played a part, the license of the operator will be taken away and the registration of the car revoked.

In this case the car was owned by the Allen Auto company. It is stated, and the company has been forbidden to operate it again until the lights are put in proper condition.

REDUCTION IN TROLLEY FARES

The announcement that the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street railway are to place a reduced fare in operation in the Lowell district some time next week was received with little enthusiasm by either business men or the riders in the cars, generally according to expression of opinion this morning.

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—"Beware the fate of Francisco Madero, who failed to heed solicitations to change his policy, and fell," was the warning sent to President Obregon last night by liberal constitutionalist members of the chamber of deputies and the senate. This warning was contained in a memorial addressed at a caucus of the liberal-constitutionalists, and it made pointed charges that P. Elias Calles, secretary of the interior, and Adolfo de la Huerta, former president and now secretary of the treasury, had attempted to cause disaffection against the Obregon administration. The document was signed by 133 deputies, and several senators.

U. S. Representatives to Take No Part
In Discussion of Silesian Question

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Poland's request for American support in the settlement of the disposition of Upper Silesia has evoked a formal answer from Secretary Hughes that the American representatives abroad will take no part in the discussions concerning the Silesian question. Poland was informed further in the reply delivered to Prince Lubomirski, the Polish minister, that "so far as at present may be seen," the American representatives on the supreme council, the council of ambassadors and the reparations commission would not so much as express an opinion as to the settlement. In explanation of the American refusal, Secretary Hughes pointed to "the traditional policy of the United States" not to become involved in matters of purely European concern.

POPPY DAYS FOR WOUNDED VETERANS

The local post of the American Legion and the women's auxiliary of the legion will conduct "poppy days" here on May 23 and May 30 for the benefit of wounded veterans of the world war. A committee representing both organizations waited upon Mayor Perry D. Thompson in his reception room at city hall this morning and outlined their plans for the affair.

After hearing their story, the mayor gave the members of the visiting committee permission to conduct the two days here. It is planned to sell the poppies all over the city and the women's auxiliary will be in charge of the actual distribution. More detailed plans will be announced later. The receipts of the sale will go to aiding wounded and sick veterans in the local hospitals as well as those in the hospital at Groton.

The committee which waited upon Mayor Thompson this morning included Charles Devno, John J. Walsh, Curtis Garrity, Arthur Turcotte, Joseph M. Dineen, Mrs. Charles Young, chairman of the Poppy day committee of the Legion auxiliary; Mrs. Edward McDermott, secretary of the auxiliary; Mrs. Paul Kittredge, Mrs. Thomas Lee, Mrs. William H. LLOYD GEORGE
REFUSES TO YIELDReiterates British Attitude Towards the Upper Silesian Question

Says Britain Cannot Stand by and Allow Treaty to be Trampled Upon

LONDON, May 18.—(By Associated Press) Prime Minister Lloyd George issued a statement today reiterating the British attitude towards the Upper Silesian question expressed by him in his recent speech in the house of commons, and disclaiming responsibility for the "distorted reports in the French newspapers."

"The fate of Upper Silesia must be decided by the supreme council and not by Korfanty," he said.

"Children of the treaty cannot be allowed to break crockery in Europe with impunity," he continued. "Somebody must place a restraining hand on them, otherwise there will be continual trouble."

"Great Britain cannot consent to stand by whilst the treaty her representatives signed less than two years ago is being trampled upon."

The statement began as follows:
"I adhere to the statement I made in the house of commons on the subject of Silesia. Naturally I can only accept responsibility for what I actually said and not for the truncated and distorted reports in the French newspapers. The almost unanimous approval given by the American and the Italian, as well as the British press to the sentiments I then expressed shows that the great nations who stood by the side of France in the way mean to interpret the treaty of Versailles fairly."

WASHINGTON'S CHAMPION SWIMMER IN ACTION

SWIM AND WIN

"Health, Happiness and Wisdom," Says Champion

WASHINGTON, May 15.—"If you'd be healthy, happy and wise—swim." That's the advice of Miss Elizabeth Bertha Smith, who attributes her Venus de Milo form, keen mind and joyous disposition to swimming.

"To remain happily vigorous, one must become normally tired physically every day," says Miss Smith. "Swimming does this better than any other sport—keeping mind and body free from corroding poisons."

When Miss Smith starts her diving stunts all others in the pool stop to watch. She makes the "swan," "jack-knife," "hand stand" and "running cone back" dives look easy.

The latter is the most difficult of all dives. A complete backward turn is made in air and the diver strikes the water head first.

An amateur, she excels in high and fancy diving and the 40-yard dash. She also swims the 50, 110 and 220-yard distances in fast time.

Champion of District
Miss Smith is in the early twenties, is employed in the state department offices and holds the all-round diving and swimming championships of the District of Columbia.

She shares the paddling championship of the Delaware-Chesapeake division of the American Canoe association.

She is an expert horsewoman and won tennis honors at Northwestern university and basketball honors in Florida.

"I engage in athletics for the fun of it," she says. "I have pride in winning events, but that is secondary. Too many girls hold aloof from sports because they cannot excel. That's a foolish way of punishing one's self."

"Exercise keeps a girl's thoughts from a morbid trend—and goodness knows there are many 'dappers' today who need their thought diverted to wholesome channels."

PLUNKETT COUNCIL HOLDS BUSY MEETING

The regular meeting of the Oliver Plunkett council, A.A.R.L.R., was held last evening in St. Peter's school hall. Chairman McInerney opened up the meeting at 8 o'clock. A large crowd was on hand and considerable business was transacted. Chairman McInerney reported that plans were completed for a mass to be held in St. Peter's church on May 30 for the heroes who died in Ireland. A committee was appointed to interview all senators and representatives from this district with regards to the recognition of the Irish republic, thus following the course of many other states.

A large number of petitions were turned in signed by various voters of this city, to be laid before congress. Brother Healey spoke of the necessity of having an open-air demonstration as a protest against the deceitful and underhanded work of Lloyd George. It was voted to instruct the central council to make plans and have the demonstration take place at an early date. After the business meeting a social session was held with the following numbers: Piano and violin solo by Misses Goggin; songs, Miss Katherine Balfry; Irish step dancing, Miss Harrington; reading, Miss McCarlin. The meeting closed by singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS
BOSTON, May 15.—The first annual convention of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters will be held at 553 Boylston street, Boston, Thursday and Friday, May 26th and 27th, with sessions each day, at 10.30 and 2.30 o'clock.

CARPENTIER HAS DEMPSEY THINKING HARD

BY E. M. THIERRY
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16.—A lot of folks have a sneaking idea that Jack Dempsey is just a wee bit contemptuous of his opponent in the big fight.

Don't you believe it. Talking with the champ and watching him, you get this idea: That Dempsey has learned a double-barreled lesson in the danger that lies in over-confidence and under-estimation.

That he learned the lesson from Jess Willard and Bill Brennan—in different ways.

That he figures Willard fell partly because he under-estimated Dempsey and that he himself came mighty near falling because he didn't take Brennan as seriously as he should.

Jack has a high opinion of Georges Carpentier and he isn't backward about admitting it.

Takes No Chances
"Carpentier's a tough fellow all right, and I'm not taking any chances," he says.

"How many rounds do you figure on?"

"Well, I don't know," he answered. "You never can tell. But if I can keep my chin out of the way—"

The sentence was left unfinished. And Dempsey wasn't smiling—as he usually is. It was serious meditation.

For Jack takes the Frenchman seriously, as a skilful boxer, a hard hitter and a man able to take punishment.

"This fight will be just as important for me as the fight with Willard," he said. "It isn't going to be easy. And so don't get the idea that I'm going to be over-confident or that I'm not going to be 'right' when I enter the ring."

Ordinarily Dempsey doesn't like to talk "shop." But he's eager to do so with anyone who has seen Carpentier fight. Questions about the Frenchman's fighting methods and his ability to absorb punishment pop out in a stream.

Jack Benefits
There isn't any doubt but that Dempsey is doing a lot of thinking—and maybe worrying—about Carpentier. And that may be a good thing. For it will surely help him to avoid the pitfall of over-confidence.

Jack's early work here shows him to have been greatly benefited by his rest at Freddie Welsh's camp. He's vigorously healthy, with flexible muscles that are rapidly hardening under the more strenuous training. Jack looks and acts like a big boy. He's six foot one and a half and weighs close to 200. When he met Willard he weighed 155. He'll probably get down to 155 for Carpentier.

Despite the fact that Dempsey at 25 has been idolized and feted by hero-worshippers for two years as a champion, that in that time he has made a million or more and that he has close to another half-million coming to him if he knocks out the Frenchman, the whole world today is talking about the man who a few years ago was riding freight trains from town to town to get $50 bouts—in spite of all that Dempsey still wears the same size hat.

His glory and prosperity haven't gone to his head. He's neither snobbish nor proud. He's unspoiled, un-

LANDIS WILL BE GLAD TO LAY ASIDE GAVEL

CHICAGO, May 16.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis will soon lay aside his gavel and go to bat for baseball with his hands clear down to the handle.

"At the time I accepted the position as baseball arbiter I felt that I could handle it with my bench job."

The judge hurries from his courtroom to baseball headquarters and from there to the ball park.

He doesn't miss a game when either the Sox or Cubs are at home.

His eyes snap with youthful pep as he watches the players warm up. He is a fan from the tips of his toes to the top of his gray hair.

office were constantly quarrelling, followed him like lambs after he put on the baseball toga.

Landis settles perplexing problems as quickly and as judiciously as he does the crime cases he hears daily in his court.

Just as he has applied horse sense to settling people's troubles he has applied it to baseball.

There is a right and a wrong side to baseball quarrels and the czar has battled a thousand so far.

As long as he remains on the bench he will get a salary of $7500 for his court job and $42,500 from baseball. He'll draw $50,000 from baseball alone when he quits the bench.

When one man can restore the faith of millions of baseball fans in a game that had become tainted he's worth every cent of the $50,000 and more.

How long Landis will remain in favor with the baseball gods is another matter.

They are hard business men. In the last analysis they follow a leader just so long as he fits into their scheme of affairs.

MORALE PAINT CEILING
LONDON, May 15.—White ceilings. They're the cause of the crime wave. People lie in bed and look up at 'em, then go out and pull a murder or hold-up. So says Lady Painter, home decorator.

FARMERS' BALL

Excellent Entertainment by
Sacred Heart Social Club

The Sacred Heart social club conducted its fifth annual farmers' ball last evening in the school hall in Moore street with a large crowd on hand to enjoy the various features of the occasion.

The grand prize march introduced a motley assembly of costumes and the judges had difficulty in selecting the winners. The prizes were finally awarded as follows: First prize for women, Miss Mary A. Hughes, characterizing a market woman; second, Miss Kitty Maher, a school girl, and third, Miss Mae Corey, for the men's prizes the following were selected: First, Edward Mullen, a blacksmith; second, Timothy Sheehan, a clergyman, and third, John Lynch, a farmer.

The judges were Mayor and Mrs. Perry D. Thompson, Martin Guilvan of the C.Y.M.C., William Purcell of the Manhattan and Edward D. Higgins of the Y.M.C.A. General dancing was enjoyed after the grand march.

The officers of the evening were as follows:

General manager, Douglas Smith; assistant, general manager, James Lannon; floor director, James Keenan; assistant, Cornelius Lynch; chief aid, John Ahearn; reception committee, Joseph Jennings, chairman, Thomas Hally, James Burns, Joseph Conroy, Edward Clancy, Leroy McMillan, Henry McFarland, John Downes, Cornelius Lynch, James Keenan and James Lannon.

The officers of the club are as follows: President, Douglas Smith; vice president, James Lannon; recording secretary, George O'Hare; financial secretary, James Keenan; board of trustees, Thomas Hally, John Dean, Edward Doherty, James Kane, Joseph Conroy and John Ahearn; literary committee, John Sheehan, Timothy Sheehan, Arthur Grady, John Lynch, John Duggan and "Al" Forrest.

MURDER PUZZLE

Sociologists Study Murder
Case of Child Wife

FARMINGTON, Mo., May 18.—A married woman is to be tried on a murder charge in juvenile court here beginning May 18. She is Mrs. Letta Parsons and is only 13.

She shot her six-year-old stepdaughter to death in their home in Iron Mountain.

Is environment to blame for the act of the child-killer? That's the feature of the case sociologists are interested in.

She was orphaned when a baby. She grew up in the mining town of Iron Mountain, almost like a wild.

There she lived until last year. Then she married John Parsons, a young widower with two children, a boy of nine and a daughter, Lily, six.

LETTA PARSONS

Household drudgery was not new to the girl-killer, but mothering two children only a few years younger than herself was a new problem and vexation.

Last March she was combing the little girl's hair. The child fretted, and ran from the house.

Mrs. Parsons picked up a shotgun standing in the kitchen and shot the girl to death.

Was this act the result of childish temper? Or was it due to a mental condition caused by a life that had contained little of childhood's joys?

These are the things the state of Missouri and sociologists are trying to determine.

Boston scientists declare the "hot dog" the most nourishing of all sandwiches. The "frankfurter" sandwich, selling for a nickel and scorned by many, contains 230 calories, while the higher priced corned beef, tongue, cheese and ham sandwiches yield below 200 calories.

MUSIC FUNDAMENTALS

International Institute Offers Splendid Opportunity to Foreign-born Children

One of the biggest opportunities ever offered to the foreign-born children of this city is now being prepared by the authorities at the International Institute. It was revealed today in a statement by Miss H. G. Hutton, director of the organization. Plans are going forward for a free course in the fundamentals of music to be held throughout the summer months, and open to all members of the various racial groups belonging to the institute. After the primary principles of music have been learned, the students will be allowed to select any instrument which they desire to learn to play, and to study it at a nominal fee from the best teachers in the city. Vocal music may be studied in the same way. Miss Hutton announces that adults may also share in the advantages of this plan.

Miss Esther Nicholson, representative of the Greek section of the institute, is now in Boston for the organization, studying the method, which is a radical departure from all former systems of teaching music. It is stated that it has just been introduced with tremendous success at the Boston Music Settlement, together with several other welfare bodies of that city. Miss Nicholson is observing and studying at all these places, and is planning a special course of instruction for local use, based on the new method as it is being instituted in Boston.

Miss Hutton, in her statement for the press this morning, explained that those desiring to avail themselves of the unusual privileges of the system will be separated into age-groups, the younger girls studying in one class, another class being for the older girls, and a special class for adult members. Those who decide after the preliminary course, to take private instruction in the mandolin, will be enabled to do so by putting a lot of pep and enthusiasm into their work. At a meeting at noon today reports were received from the workers.

Figures showing the wonderful growth of Salvation Army work in cities where the army has an established corps, being of its own made public yesterday by Col. William A. McIntyre, provincial commander of the army in New England.

"The work of the Salvation Army is largely among the poor and middle classes," says the colonel's statement. "Its officers are drawn largely from these classes and have been trained from childhood in economy, thrift and industry. They are not only

POLICE BAFFLED

No Clew to Fly-by-Night
Joy Riders

Who are the mysterious joy-riders, who calmly step into automobiles parked in the heart of Lowell and merrily spin away, leaving abandoned cars they have purloined after they have enjoyed themselves sufficiently? The police don't know. We don't know. Nobody seems to know. But this much is no secret. Since the beginning of the week two machines, the property of local residents, have been taken by unknown individuals and later recovered by the police. Sunday night George H. Allard reported that his vintage roadster was missing from in front of Keith's theatre, where he left it at 8 o'clock. It was subsequently found. Last night M. Santos of Central street, notified the authorities that a Ford roadster belonging to him had been appropriated as it was standing on Bridge street. The car was later located on the machine on St. James street, and it was restored to its owner. But the identity of the crook parties who nonchalantly possessed themselves of the automobiles, and participated in the pleasure of a free ride—ah, that remains a dark, dark mystery.

NEW HIGH MARK
IN ARRESTS HERE

Will this month's report of drunkenness arrests in Lowell make a new high mark for the year?

April established a record of 121, which beat each of the three preceding months. January showed 104, February and March each had 126, a jump of 22. Then April trumped that, with another climb of 5. And this month, scarcely more than half over, has already 16 arrests recorded, up to and including this morning's batch of five.

If you are fond of higher mathematics, here are the probabilities. During the first eighteen days, makes an average slightly over 4.7 per day. If the same ratio continues for the remaining 13 days, the grand total will figure 157.7 and a trifle over. In other words, it will beat April's record by 14.7. As was said of Julius Caesar, "Oh, John Barleycorn, thou art mighty yet!"

ANOTHER TEST FOR PUMPING ENGINE

A final official working test of the new Worthington pumping engine at the West Sixth street station of the water department, will probably be given next Friday, according to Commissioner John F. Salomon. The commissioner received a telegram today from W. J. Blessing of Buffalo, N. Y., the representative of the Worthington Pump & Machinery corporation, the concern which installed the pump, announcing that he would reach Lowell tomorrow.

Mr. Blessing was previously here but when the time came to give the pump its tryout it was found that the boiler connected with it was incapable of giving the required 125 pounds of steam necessary for the test. Since then repairs have been made on the boiler and it is now performing as it should.

SECOND ANNUAL OUTING

The second annual outing of the Overseers and Second Hands Social and Educational club of the Massachusetts mills will be held Saturday afternoon, June 11, at the Martins Lake grounds in Tyngsboro. The members of the organization will journey to the neighboring towns in automobiles and a varied sporting program will be conducted on the grounds. A buffet luncheon will be served in the early part of the afternoon and later the guests will partake of a shore dinner. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of the following: O. H. Webster, chairman; James Bowen, Patrick Nevins.

EAGLES HELP ARMY DRIVE

The local aeris of Eagles voted to contribute $25 to the Salvation Army campaign at its regular meeting last evening. Plans were made to send a delegation to the annual convention of the Massachusetts aeris at North Adams on May 29, 30 and 31. Worthy President Bowen was in the chair.

WILL HONOR THE DEAD

Honor Military and Naval Veterans

Deceased military and naval veterans of the nation's wars will be honored, and their services to the flag commemorated, in elaborate ceremonies now in course of preparation by the local post of the American Legion, for May 30, Memorial day. Tomorrow night the committee in charge of the plans for the occasion will hold a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. building and final arrangements will be completed, after reports of progress have been turned in. The committee was elected at a gathering of the entire membership of the local post, held Monday evening in Memorial hall. It comprises the following members: William B. Hegans, chairman; Eugene Loupret, Joseph M. Dineen, John T. McInerney, Curtis Garrity, William E. Kirk and William Lyons.

Last night these representatives of the Lowell world war vets. of the legion organization, met at the Y and appointed sub-committees to handle the details of the projected exercises. Joseph Dineen was chosen to take care of all printing incidental to the occasion, while other members were selected to visit Rev. Arthur C. McGiffert, pastor of All Souls' Congregational church, and Rev. Fr. Mahan, O. M.I., chaplain of the Lowell post. Rev. Mr. McGiffert will be requested to officiate at the exercises in Edson cemetery, while Fr. Mahan will be asked to act as officiating clergyman at St. Patrick's cemetery.

The G.A.R. has extended an invitation to the legion members to attend a special memorial service to be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Congregational church, on Merrimack street. This will formally open the recognition of the departed heroes this year. Then on Monday morning the entire body of legionnaires will assemble at a designated point, and proceed to the South common, garbed in the uniforms in which they saw service with the army and navy of the country during the war. An altar will be erected at the common and here, in the presence of the members of the Lowell post, a military mass will be celebrated by Chaplain Mahan.

In the afternoon, in parade formation, the legion, together with the G.A.R., the Spanish War Veterans, the Sons of Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who have been invited to participate by the legion, which is conducting the parade, to parade with them, will visit both the Edson and St. Patrick's cemeteries, where the graves of the dead of the war will be decorated with flags and flowers, and where orations and other exercises will complete the ceremonies.

WITH GREEK ARMY
IN ASIA MINOR

Constantine Vurgaropoulos, a prominent business man, of Market street, and former president of the local Greek community, has received a very interesting letter from his brother, Capt. Haris Vurgaropoulos, who is with the Greek army in Asia Minor. The young officer states that women and boys have joined the ranks of the Turkish army.

Capt. Vurgaropoulos is with the 30th Infantry of the First Machine Gun Co. and although but 30 years of age he is a veteran of three wars. He participated in the Balkan Turkish war, the Balkan-Bulgarian war and the world war. Last year he received his degree of L.L.B. from the Athens university and was preparing to take the examination for admission to the bar when his country called him. He is now located at Eskisehir, Asia Minor, and states that it will be but a short time before the Turks are defeated.

PAGE NUIS. SARGENT!

An effort is being made at police headquarters to locate Mrs. George W. Sargent, formerly of Lake George, N. H., with reference to a letter which was been received here concerning some property at Lake George which belongs to her. If Mrs. Sargent or her heirs will communicate with Officer Joseph L'Amoureux, it is stated, that she will receive information which may prove of great value.

To End Nation-wide Marine Strike

NEW YORK, May 18.—The general strike committee of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association left today for Washington where it is understood they will confer with Secretary of Labor Davis on a proposal for settlement of the nation-wide marine strike. Committee members declined to discuss this mission. The invitation to visit Washington was extended to union representatives here last night by Mr. Davis. At the office of the American Steamship Owners' association, knowledge of a settlement proposal was disclaimed.

American Golfers Win Match

HOYLAK, England, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Charles Evans of Chicago and R. T. Jones of Atlanta, defeated T. D. Armour of Scotland, champion of France, and Harold H. Hilton, former British amateur champion, in a practice golf match today, 2 and 1. The players were even up with four holes to play. The Americans finished brilliantly, winning the 15th hole in three, halving the sixteenth in four and winning the 17th in three.

For International Security Market

NEW YORK, May 18.—Establishment of an international security market in this country as "the missing link in international finance" and to add strength "at the weakest point in the chain of the world's economic relations" was advocated today by Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance corporation, in an address at the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers.

ACCEPT RESIGNATION OF PASTOR DILTS IS OVER TROUBLES

The resignation of Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, as pastor of Calvary Baptist church, was accepted at a meeting of parishioners last night, at which many members of the congregation expressed appreciation of the pastor's services and regret that he has decided to accept a call to a pulpit in Amherst. Deacon Richard Gumb called the meeting to order, and Charles E. Lathie was elected clerk to fill a vacancy caused by resignation. It was announced that Mr. Dilts' resignation is to become effective July 1.

REV. ASA REED DILTS

31, and that he is to serve as pastor of the church until June 20. The letter of resignation in substance follows:

Twenty-two years and a half ago, I entered, at your call, upon the work of the Lord in this city, in this church, as your pastor. Though I have failed all too frequently in the full performance of my duty, I am yet conscious of having cherished a deep desire, and of having made an honest effort, under God, to meet faithfully my responsibility.

The time has now come, in the providence of God, when I feel called upon to lay down this work. And I lay it down, not because I am tired of it, not because I have not had a fair measure of success in it, but solely because the Master whose I am and whom I serve, has, as I believe, called me to another field of work.

I can never forget these more than 22 years spent among you, and with you, nor can I ever cease to be devoutly thankful for them. We have together known adversities and prosperities; and thankful as I am for the prosperities, I am still more thankful for the adversities. They have

Miss Mohr Says She Can't Find Sufficient Words to Praise Tanlae.

"I really can't find words to express the praise I should like to give Tanlae for restoring my health," said Miss Anna M. Mohr, popular high school teacher, residing at 127 Copeland st. Campello, Mass. Miss Mohr is a member of one of the most prominent families of Campello, and has scores of friends.

"I caught a severe cold four years ago which let me lie in bed for weeks and with a persistent hacking cough that worried me day and night. I would cough until I turned purple in the face and these spells always left me completely exhausted. I coughed most on arising in the morning, on going to bed at night and during the day. I was unable to do my work without great discomfort at all. My appetite was very poor, and many days I looked after my duties in the school room without any enjoyment at all except a cup of coffee. I often coughed so much at night I scarcely slept any, and the horror of those nights was simply terrible. I was looking for some relief, and my friends were asking what on earth was the trouble with me. It became an effort for me to attend to my duties in the school, and many mornings I felt so bad actually dreaded to go to the school room.

"I had tried a great many treatments, but none had helped me until I got Tanlae. I have taken four bottles of this great medicine now, and can truly say that I never felt better in my life. I go to the school room in the morning with all the pleasure I used to have in my work before I got sick. I think Tanlae is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I hope my statement will lead other sufferers to try it, for I believe they will get the same splendid results as I did."

Tanlae is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlae representative; by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; Shaw's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

been to me a means of great blessing. Through them I have come to know the truth and faithfulness of God, as I might never have known them.

These years have been years of growth for you and for me; years of ever-deepening spiritual life for you and for me; years of expanding usefulness and power. For your patience with me, I am profoundly thankful. For your goodness to me and mine, for your loyalty, your friendship, your love, I thank you from my heart. May the blessing of the Lord, that maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow therewith, be yours now and always."

LOCAL COMPANY LOSES BY NARROW MARGIN

By a narrow margin, that of 7-100ths of an inch, the United States Cartridge company was beaten in ammunition tests held at Quantico, Va., the marine headquarters for that section of the country. Representatives of the local concern, hurriedly despatched South when the Cartridge company received news of the competition very shortly prior to its being held, were at Quantico during the three days of firing, May 11 to 13, and returned to Lowell Monday evening.

JAMES E. BURNS, Assistant Superintendent of the company's local plant.

They are William J. Robinson, assistant superintendent of the company's local plant, and James E. Burns, who heads the testing department. The tests were held to determine the brand of ammunition to be used at the national rifle matches scheduled for August at Camp Perry, Ohio. The United States Cartridge company of Bridgeport, Conn., won the series of tests by the slightest margin. The firing was of 20-caliber cartridges, with rifles in machine gun tests.

Last year the local company did not enter the competition, because of reorganization processes which are still in progress. Nevertheless, it was decided to send representatives this year, despite the fact that changes are still going on at the plant here. The U. S. Cartridge company came third in the tests, with only 7-100ths of an inch separating it from the winner. The Western Cartridge company was second; the Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia, was fourth; and the Peters' Cartridge company was fifth.

LADIES' AUXILIARY, A.O.U.E. The regular meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary, A.O.U.E., was held last evening in A.O.U.E. hall, Middle street, with a large attendance. Routine business was transacted and arrangements were made for a character party to be held in the near future.

importance, but this is a statement which is at absolute variance with all the concepts of society."

In conclusion the memorial declared that Francisco Madero's friends were convinced of the disloyalty of some of his alleged supporters. It was said these friends visited Madero in 1913, and told him it was necessary for him to change his policy.

"But Madero," the memorial went on, "confident of his popularity, blind in his incapacity to conceive of wrong and sure of the loyalty of those who were represented as disloyal, he did not, and within a month there was begun the most prolonged tragedy this nation has ever known. At this moment, members of the Mexican congress who have signed this document call upon you to make a supreme effort that history may not be repeated, and place at your service their loyalty and patriotism and their wishes for the prosperity of the nation."

Secretaries Calles and De la Huerta were charged with attempting to use their offices to propagate radicalism. There was no request made, however, for the resignations of the two members of the cabinet.

Radical sympathizers attempted to force their way into the chamber of deputies last night to attack members of the liberal-constitutional party, who were holding a caucus there. The men engaged in the disorder were dispersed by the fire department.

The streets near the congressional building were filled all the afternoon with idly curious people who were awaiting developments. Aurelia Manrique, a socialist deputy, made an impassioned harangue, and large numbers gathered to break into the chamber. The timely arrival of the firemen stopped the demonstration, and the radicals transferred their activities to Alameda park, in the center of the city, but the firemen again interfered and the crowd was dispersed. One socialist deputy, who renounced with the firemen, was arrested.

In the meantime the members of the liberal-constitutional party had left the building. Some of them were openly carrying arms, but no attacks were made upon them. An explanation was made later in the evening that there was no attempt to prohibit socialist deputies from entering the chamber, but that the doors had been closed to forestall a possible demonstration by spectators. The crowd around the building, however, were led to believe that there was governmental discrimination against the socialists and in favor of their opponents.

Mother's Medicine for the family

When mother was a little girl, HER mother always kept this name "L. F. Atwood" remedy in the house, for it was then in general use, just as it is today. And everybody knew it was pure and safe to take for those frequent attacks of indigestion which cause biliousness, with headache or loss of appetite and energy.

A teaspoon dose at bedtime or an hour before breakfast will relieve the bowels and tone the stomach and liver so that strength, energy, and cheerfulness return. Sixty dose bottle, 50 cents, everywhere. "L. F." Medicine Co., Portland, Me.

SISTER MARY'S PARTY

June is Sure a Delightful Time for Luncheons and Dinners

BY SISTER MARY
The fore part of June is a delightful time for luncheons and dinners. If there is to be a June bride in your circle of friends a little party in her honor would surely please her and your entertaining would be over and done with before the weather grows so hot that even your guests may sigh at the prospect of sizzling in their best clothes.

My Own Recipes

Serve the strawberries with the hulls on with powdered sugar. The consomme is served in bouillon cups. The croustons should be passed by a maid if there is one. If the hostess is doing her own serving she may bring the croustons to the table after the last cup of bouillon is placed and the guests will pass the plate to each other. The croquettes are left on the table during the course and removed with the cups. The croquettes and asparagus are served on individual plates in the kitchen. The rolls should be passed and taken away. The radishes, olives and nuts are passed and left on the table until the dessert. The chesse cups are served on a bread and butter plate with the salad. The pudding may be served on plates or bread, low standing sherbet glasses. The menu is simple enough for the hostess to prepare and serve herself.

Chicken Croquettes

Two and one half cups chopped cold boiled chicken, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1 dessertspoon minced parsley, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 cups flour, 1 cup chicken stock, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg yolk salt and pepper. Crumbs, egg and fat.

Chesse a chicken about one year old. Roll until tender. Remove meat from bones and chop. Strain stock, cool and skim off fat. Make a thick sauce by melting butter, stirring in flour and adding stock slowly, stirring constantly. Stir in yolk of egg beaten with the milk. Season with salt and pepper and add chicken which has been well mixed with salt, pepper and parsley. Spread on a platter to cool. When cool shape roll in crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 2 tablespoons cold water, roll again in crumbs and fry in deep hot fat.

Nesselrode Pudding

Twenty large chestnuts, 4 eggs (yolks), 1-2 cup sugar, 2 cups cream, 1-3 cup seeded raisins, 2 ounces candied pineapple, 1-2 cup currants, 1 cup whipped cream, sirup to cover fruit.

Peel and blanch chestnuts. Cook chestnuts in thin sirup to cover till tender. Reserve 6 chestnuts and press the rest through a sieve. Cook raisins and currants in sirup until plump and tender. Add the 6 chestnuts cut in small pieces and the pineapple cut in pieces. Beat yolks of eggs with sugar and pour over the 2 cups of cream scalded in double boiler. Return to boiler and cook until mixture coats spoon. Add chestnut puree. Turn into mold and partly freeze. Then add cream whipped stiff. When frozen beat in the fruit and nuts drained from sirup. Let stand an hour longer before serving. Serve with whipped cream or boiled custard.

SPANISH INFLUENCE

To Spain, that country of narrow streets and wide skirts, designers have gone for inspiration. Thus the very full skirts of the new frocks often are punctuated with ball trimmings which you remember having seen on the long skirts of some Spanish dancer.

TRADE FRAUDS IN ANCIENT BABYLON!

This is the second of four articles, important alike to business man and consumer, written for The Sun by Chairman Thompson.

BY HUSTON THOMPSON, Chairman, Federal Trade Commission
Modern chemistry is achieving veritable wonders in the way of substitutes. Hardly a season passes without some new, synthetic product of the laboratory being placed on the market to meet the needs of the many who cannot afford to purchase the genuine article.

We marvel at the progress of science and recognize the economic value of the achievements. But does this justify the growing practice of enterprising tradesmen in "passing off" imitations under trade names that lead the unwitting public to believe they are genuine?

The use of deceptive and misleading marks of origin and of false statements as to the quality of goods is as old as commerce itself. Not long ago, a beautiful vase was found among the ruins of ancient Babylon. It was the offering of a pious worshipper to the city god, and was marked "real lapis lazuli."

But the teeth of time had gnawed through the outer surface and exposed an inferior substitute underneath. Today there is a prolific misbranding of goods of all kinds. Our housewife carries home what she thinks is an ivory or tortoise-shell comb, a coral necklace or a bit of "jade" or "jet," which in reality is celluloid or some other pyralin.

And our male customer will be no wiser when he purchases what he assumes to be an amber cigar holder or an amber mouthpiece for his pipe. The substitute may be economically useful and much more reasonable in price, but it should not be marked in such a way as to deceive the buyer, as is sometimes the case. A number of manufacturers have come to the commission to work in conjunction with it towards the elimination of this practice.

Let us accompany the inexperienced purchaser of knit goods or fabric. What does he know of the actual wool or silk content in a material described as "all wool," "all merino" or "all silk?"

The misbranding of knit goods and

This Laced Front Corset Will Make Such a Difference in Your Figure.

Your figure needs the friendly support of wisely placed bones. The wisdom with which you select your corset is reflected in your appearance. Of all items in your wardrobe none is so important as your corset.

If you wish to make the most of yourself wear LADY RUTH LACED FRONT CORSETS. You will find the front lacing a wonderful convenience. No fumbling at the back with laces you cannot see.

The new styles show the popular low bust with straight hips. The back is slightly higher than the front in many of the models, to give the needed shoulder support.

EFFICIENT AND COURTEOUS FITTING SERVICE

fabrics has reached the point where few purchasers have any conception of what they are buying.

It is time to declare truth in fabric. We buy materials which are interwoven with substitutes, yet the deception is so perfect that it is not detected until the false threads begin to break down and the article goes to pieces.

The simple tests made by the thrifty housewife of old, when she purchased from the dry goods merchants, avail little in our era of scientific manufacture.

How many purchasers realize that much of the silk now on the market has a metallic content which may render it useless for the goods, but also renders them less durable?

From 1000 to 1500 tons of tin are consumed in the United States each year in the manufacture of silk. One pound of raw silk, after repeated treatments with stannic chloride and sodium phosphate, will yield eight pounds of silk for sale.

How many purchasers, when they enter certain stores and find the goods of several manufacturers on sale, realize that the salesman who so enthusiastically recommends one article over the others, may be receiving a secret commission on the sale of that particular article, which may or may not be of the best quality? Such cases have been before the commission on complaints of honest merchants who have been injured by this practice.

In the relation between the consumer and seller, the money which passes across the counter should be a fair price in return for service and goods of fair quality and quantity. As long as the practice of secret commission exists, the buyer cannot have the unrestricted service which he expects from the salesman and to which he is entitled.

Hope Hopes to Make a Film That'll "Knock 'em Cold"

BY JAMES W. DEAN
A girl who lived in Houston, Tex., attended boarding school in New Orleans. A Houston newspaper conducted a beauty contest.

Schoolmates sent the girl's photograph to the newspaper. She won the contest.

The girl was Hope Hampton. There seemed to be magic in the name of Hope, for she was offered movie contracts by several producers.

She refused these and went to a dramatic school in New York. After six months at the school Leonce Perret, French director, gave her the leading role in "A Modern Salome."

That was released less than a year ago. Hope is only 19 now.

Hope didn't like the picture. She was then starred in "Love's Penalty," a recent release. Several reviewers said that the work of Miss Hampton was good, but that the story was weak.

So now Hope is filming "Star Dust," Fannie Hurst's widely read story, with her own producing company. James Hearn is her leading man. This is his first picture since his marriage to Dot Gish.

Miss Hampton has never been on the stage, but in "Star Dust" she makes her debut on the stage—the screen, for it's a stage play.

A Heritage
Your grandchildren and your great grandchildren may see and hear Woodrow Wilson make his speech declaring war against Germany.

Wendell McMillan is trying to induce the former president to appear before Orlando Kellogg's talking picture device.

Attempts are also being made to get Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Sonnino, Albert and other personages of the peace conference to make the synchronized records.

If the plan is successful copies of the films and records will be presented to the Smithsonian Institute.

Photographers Ban China
The American Society of Cinematographers in Los Angeles passed a resolution forbidding members of the so-called "Reds" from using cameras in the United States.

FOR LOWELL BATTERY
City Will Pay Good Price for Training and Camping Ground

It will cost the city of Lowell at least $2500 to purchase Spalding park for the use of two local units of the 102d Massachusetts artillery, as recently requested by Capt. W. C. MacBrayne, commanding officer of Battery B of this city.

According to the figures of the assessors, the total valuation placed on the park and its buildings is that amount. The grand stand and bleachers are valued at $3000 and the five and a half acres of land comprising the park at $2200. The owners are Peter Roach and James J. Kennedy.

Usually, when the city takes over a piece of property the owners claim 25 per cent. above the assessed value, as allowed by law. This would bring the total cost up to $4500. If the city was unable to negotiate satisfactorily with the owners and the matter went to court.

The municipal council received a request from the battery at a recent meeting to take over the property. The communication was filed and Mayor Thompson said today that as soon as the battery's horses arrive definite action will undoubtedly be taken relative to securing the park.

HAD TO BE COAXED TO TAKE CINOT BUT IS NOW COAXING OTHERS SAYS LOWELL MAN

Mr. Steve B. Runard of 310 Moody Street, Lowell, Says CINOT is all and More Than It Is Recommended to Be and Is Telling His Friends How Wonderful It Is.

"And to think I had to be coaxed to take this wonderful remedy that helped me when all else failed, but the shoe is on the other foot now and I am telling my friends about it." Said Mr. Runard.

"I had heartburn and constipation for the past four years and could get no relief whatsoever until I took CINOT. And the very first bottle relieved the misery that I have suffered with for many years."

"Today after three bottles I feel fine and in fact am a different man as far as health goes and can tell you right now that CINOT is in a class all by itself."

CINOT is being demonstrated in Lowell by an expert at Dows' drug store, Merrimack sq. and is for sale by Lowell Pharmacy and at all good druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Additional Changes In Tariff Bill

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Additional changes will be made in the emergency tariff bill by senate and house conferees in adjusting their differences, it was indicated today. House members of the conference, while not refusing to accept some portions of the bill as rewritten in the senate finance committee, are known to have taken a stand against the anti-dumping and duty control section.

LOWELL MAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Were it not for the fact that he brought his automobile to a full stop and then jumped, Mr. J. W. Schanke, proprietor of the Lowell Opera House, would have been seriously injured if not killed when an electric car of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway

Co. crashed into his machine on the Lawrence road late yesterday afternoon. His machine was wrecked in the collision, while the electric was slightly damaged, but fortunately no one was injured.

The accident occurred on the car tracks at a point near Stanley-on-the-Merrimack, shortly after 5 o'clock. Mr. Schanke was driving his car to Lawrence, when he was forced into the car tracks by a truck and touring car coming in the opposite direction. He attempted to swing his machine back onto the road, but was unable to do so, and when he saw a Lowell-bound electric coming at a fair rate of speed he stopped his machine and jumped. A few seconds later the car crashed into the auto.

Anderson, director of the New York public library, accepted the gift and expressed appreciation.

RAILROAD WAGE CUT JUSTIFIED

Labor Board Declares Prevailing Conditions Warrant Readjustment Downward

Amount of Reduction Not Yet Determined—Will Be Announced June 1

CHICAGO, Ill., May 18.—The United States railroad labor board announced late yesterday that it had decided that "prevailing conditions justify to an extent, yet to be determined, a readjustment downward of the wages of the carriers which are parties to the disputes already heard by the board."

The announcement, which affects labor on practically every road in the country, was entirely unexpected, as the board only began formal consideration of the case Monday.

The board declared it would hand down its final decision in all wage disputes docketed prior to April 18 on June 1, to be effective on July 1. Disputes filed since April 18 will be heard on June 8, "it being the purpose of the board to make its decision of the disputes heard June 6, effective on July 1."

The railroads completed their evidence May 7, and Monday B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, filed the employees' final statement.

The text of the board's announcement follows:

"Whereas, under date of April 6, 1921, the United States railroad labor board, adopted a resolution, which recited, among other things, that in the judgment of the board, it is desirable to hear at one time and decide in one decision, so far as may be possible, the question as to what may constitute just and reasonable wages for all classes of employees of carriers parties to decision number two as to whose wages there may be disputes; and,

"Whereas, the board has now heard the evidence and arguments of both parties to all such disputes which were filed and docketed prior to April 18, 1921, but since said date a large number of applications for decision on similar disputes have been filed and there are reasonable grounds to believe that still other such applications are about to be filed; and,

"Whereas, the railroad labor board has this day, by formal resolution, declared that in its judgment, based upon the evidence before it in the disputes already heard, prevailing conditions justify to some extent, yet to be determined, a readjustment downward of the wages of the employees of the carriers which are parties to the disputes already heard by the labor board; therefore, be it resolved:

"1.—That this board will on June 1, 1921, announce its decision, covering the disputes as to wages between carriers and their employees, which have been heretofore heard by the board, to become effective July 1, 1921.

"2.—That Monday, June 6, 1921, be set as the date when this board will hear the representatives of the parties to disputes filed since April 18, 1921, or which may yet be filed and docketed prior to June 6. It being the purpose of the railroad labor board to make its decision of the disputes heard June 6, 1921, effective July 1, 1921."

Extends to All Classes

A general reduction of wages for unskilled railroad employees, effective July 1, which was forecast by the railroad labor board in an announcement last night, will be made the basis of reductions extending to all classes of railroad employees, it was understood today.

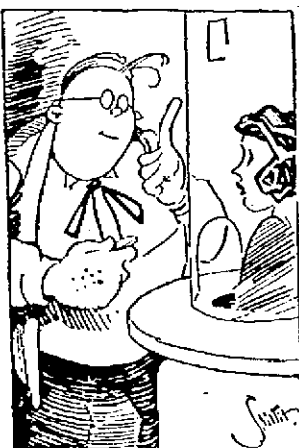

Although only the Chicago, Great Western, the Chicago & Alton and a few other carriers have requested that the wage reductions be extended to all classes, provision was made by the board in its announcement for the filing of other petitions up to June 6, and it is believed others of the 130 Class A roads will amend their applications to include shop, train service and other classes of employees. The new applications filed up to June 6, the board's announcement said, would be decided to take effect also on July 1.

No intimation was given in the board's announcement as to the probable extent of the cut. Last July the board increased wages of unskilled labor and some other classes 20 per cent, making it retroactive to May 1, 1920.

"The general effect of the decision will be to retard track work," said S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western. Other railroad executives said track maintenance and repair crews had been kept at skeleton strength hoping for a wage cut effective April 1. Disappointment was expressed that the cut was to be delayed until July 1, as by that time, it was said, the heaviest part of track rehabilitation work is generally completed.

The decision last July affected approximately 2,000,000 men and granted increases totalling nearly $60,000,000 a year. The average rate then was 25 per cent. The normal number of unskilled employees on Class A roads is 500,000, but, in anticipation of a wage cut, the number of maintenance employees has been kept considerably below that figure.

Turns Failure Into Success—Girl Wins as Dealer in Men's Clothing

MISS ADA SMITH

SALINA, Kan., May 17.—Seven years ago Ada Smith, then 17, returned to "the old home town." Her family was engaged in the men's clothing business and their store was "on the rocks."

Miss Smith had been working as a stenographer in Chicago and going to night school. She had saved $537 for a course in the University of Chicago to become a welfare worker.

Miss Smith stayed home to take charge of the store. It's debt aggregated $4000. It was on wholesalers' black list. It owed $900 back rent. The girl paid creditors $5 to $50 from her savings. After much argument she obtained a credit of $100 for latest style haberdashery to change the "tone" of the shop.

Today she has paid off all debts, has refurnished the store with modern fixtures, has an up-to-the-minute stock, and is doing an annual business of $25,000 to $35,000.

"I was told that a woman couldn't succeed in a men's clothing business," says Miss Smith. "I told them I would show 'em, if they'd give me the chance."

"What it took to succeed was determination—and work, hard work. I had no false pride. Even today, with success assured, I get down on my knees with a mouth full of pins to take measurements of suits."

Miss Smith belongs to the chamber of commerce, the Merchants' association and the Dorian Club of Business and Professional Women.

And she has built a new home for her mother and is educating her brothers.

Quiet In Tug River Valley

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 18.—The few reports received here from the upper Tug river valley early today indicated that the night had been quiet. The opposing factions in the industrial disturbances of the past week gave no indication that they were still on guard. Kentucky guardsmen as well as the West Virginia state police continued to hold their positions.

An inquest into the death of Antoinette St. George, who died April 23 after being struck by an automobile truck, was held this morning at the police court before Judge John J. Pickman. Fred H. Gilman, driver of the vehicle, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter, and his case was continued to May 23, to await the inquest report. He was bailed in the sum of $2000 by W. J. Buebeck, his employer.

STRENGTH RESTORED AFTER INFLUENZA

"I had a severe attack of influenza," says Mrs. Henry H. Miller, of No. 121 Elliott street, Brattleboro, Vt., "and it seemed practically impossible for me to recover my strength. I was tired all the time and couldn't undertake any work without resting every few minutes. At times my condition was so bad that I had to go to bed and I was also under the care of a nurse. I suffered from rheumatism, too, in my limbs and my head ached and I was very nervous."

"Years ago I had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they helped me so much then that I decided to give the remedy another trial. In a very short time I could see that the pills were helping me and soon I was able to do my own work without unusual exertion. Headaches no longer bothered me, my nerves are stronger and I feel better than I have for some time. I cannot recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too strongly."

A useful booklet, "Building Up the Blood," containing a special chapter on the after-effects of the grip, will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or you can order them direct by mail, postpaid, 60 cents a box.—Adv.

NO FIREHOUSE FOR OAKLANDS DISTRICT

There is very little possibility of the residents of the Oakland district having a firehouse in their section of the city in the near future. It is generally believed at city hall, although members of the municipal council believe that such a building will be a necessity there eventually.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson said today that the Oakland district taken care of today better than ever before as far as fire protection is concerned. New modern motorized apparatus has recently been installed at the High street engine house and work is now under way to improve the water service in that section. He said that he believed the time might come when a new house would be a necessity but under present conditions and with so many other projects under way, he thought it out of the question. There certainly wouldn't be money available for the work this year, he added.

Commissioner John F. Salmon, head of the fire department, favors a firehouse in the Oakland district providing the funds were available. But at the present time they are not, he said.

"The residents of the Oakland district are getting great water service," continued the commissioner, "and I think this is as important a factor in fire protection as anything else. What we should have is a better fire alarm system so that the apparatus won't lose time once the alarm is sent in. Here in Lowell we have a system that has been in use for half a century and it takes altogether too long for an alarm to ring in. I was down in Cambridge the other day and happened to be in a firehouse when an alarm was sounded. There was no long drawn out delay between the stroke of the alarm. They sounded in a quick, snappy manner and the firemen were not delayed in getting out of the house."

If a bungalow type of house were to be erected in the Oakland district it would be in the neighborhood of $30,000, at present prices. The new house in the Highlands which is to be started in a day or two will cost more than

Total Still Climbing

mal announcement that the drive had been a success. Among the speakers was Humphrey O'Sullivan of this city. Dr. Tigue announced Lowell's grand total and also announced the $5000 gift of Rt. Rev. William O'Brien, P. M., of St. Patrick's church. He said that it was only through the urging of Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., that Monsignor O'Brien let it be known that he had made so generous a contribution to the drive.

When mention was made of the fact that the French-speaking parish of St. Jean Baptiste church had contributed $250 to the fund, through the efforts of the Oblate Fathers and the parish chairman, Napoleon Vigeant and Victor Recheite, both of them B. C. men, John F. Fitzgerald came forward from the rear of the stage and suggested three cheers for that parish.

He's a "Go-Get-Em" Guy

shall be nameless at the desire of the police, is the terror of bootleggers, hoppers, and other merchants in the outlaw lot. He visited the lodging-house conducted by the defendant, according to the story, and proffered a $2 bill, for which he received a pint bottle of the fiery fluid. He came forth with his "buy."

And the combined liquor and vice squads promptly went in. A search of the premises, the officers say, disclosed a half-gallon of the home-made hooch, and the defendant was in consequence escorted to headquarters. There, it is stated, a search of her person by policewomen revealed a glass of the variety which in the old days was universally designated as a "whiskey glass," and also a glass which had been given in exchange for the first water. You see, the officers had fully noted the number of the bill prior to giving it to their representative. Sherlock Holmes isn't the only one, eh?

It is said at police headquarters that the mysterious man who brought about the Rouleau woman's arrest has 'em all licked when it comes to tracking the wily hooch-hawker to his lair. Scores and scores of additions to the municipal finances are the fruit of his subtlety. And the worst of all—for the booze-purveyors—is that he hasn't even started yet. Over at the station-house, they just smile, and say, "Wait until he begins putting on his disguises."

THE EFFICIENT WOMAN

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of 50 years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force and energy. In the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition. Thousands of women have succeeded through daily baths, exercise in the fresh air, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of female weakness.—Adv.

BABY GOES BYE-BYE NOW IN WIRELESS BUGGY!

Enter the radio baby buggy!
Wonderful things can be accomplished by it.

Music played hundreds of miles away can lull the baby to sleep.

Mother can call up by wireless to ascertain how baby is. Thus she will be more at ease while shopping or playing bridge.

If the park cop and the nurse want to take a little stroll, she says, "Just wait till I start the wireless music so the kid won't squeal!"

Dad can wheel the baby around the block and when mother has the table set she can call him home.

Variations are endless.

The first wireless baby buggy has been made by the Union College Radio Club of Schenectady, N. Y. Lullabies issue from a horn on the perambulator as it is wheeled through the streets.

The buggy supports a receiving set of three wires stretched on two bamboo poles. The storage battery rests on the carriage "chassis" and the sound amplifier is hidden under the canopy.

The music is sent from the Union College radio station. It can be heard at radio stations 1200 miles away. A ship 700 miles at sea has heard it. Stations in 24 states and provinces of Canada have reported hearing it.

The club has been giving wireless concerts once a week for several months and is now sending out sermons by Dr. C. A. Richmond, president of the college. The sermons are sent out on Sunday nights and are accompanied by reading of the doxology and singing of hymns.

At 75, America's Greatest Railroad Engineer Is Starting Out for Himself

By LINTON WELLS
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 18.—He's beginning when most men finish.

But William Hood, aged 75 and acknowledged dean of the engineering profession in the United States, is a different kind of a man from the usual run.

He started his engineering career as an ax-man with the old Central Pacific railroad, now the Southern Pacific, at Sacramento, Cal., in 1847. Some of the most amazing railroad engineering feats of the age are credited to him.

Recently Hood quit the Southern Pacific to go into business for himself. Things were getting too slow in the railroad game. The company had announced a program which called for little or no work in his line.

Life without action seemed intolerable to this old-young man, so he resigned on the fifty-fourth anniversary of his starting work with the company.

Intended to Retire Sooner

"I should have retired from the Southern Pacific and started for myself five years ago," Hood declares, "but the company requested me not to, so I stayed on."

Six months ago he requested that he be permitted to retire. It was purely a matter of sentiment, Hood explains, that led him to designate the fifty-fourth anniversary.

Hood was born in New Hampshire in 1846. At the age of 16 he joined activity, otherwise a coffin would soon be awaiting me.

"For the next few months I expect to attend to personal affairs, and afterward do some writing for publications on engineering subjects."

"After that, I probably will establish headquarters in New York and accept engagements as a consulting engineer concerning projects of a kind for which I feel that I have had enough experience to enable me to be a competent adviser."

Despite his advanced age, Hood is alert and in robust health; he looks twenty years younger than he is.

Sits Down Seidom

He works standing up before a huge drawing board and never sits down except to sign his name. During a day he is not seated for more than twenty minutes.

Every Sunday finds Hood in the open country, usually alone, a camera over his back, a stick in his hand, tramping for the fun of it.

I asked him how he managed to keep so healthy and active despite his 75 years. He smiled, and replied:

"Most people take credit on themselves for their health, but not so I. I was born healthy. I have lived reasonably well, and I couldn't spell myself if I tried."

PREMIER HUGHES SENDS MESSAGE TO AMERICA

By Newspaper Enterprise.
CHICAGO, May 18.—America and Australia have identical problems in the Pacific, says William M. Hughes, prime minister of Australia, in a message to America.

The message of Hughes was sent through W. D. Boyce, Chicago and Indianapolis publisher, who went to the island to write a series of articles. Australia is "the white outpost of the Pacific," says Hughes.

He will soon visit America on his way to London to attend a conference of the prime ministers of all British possessions.

He was once umbrella tender, then wharf laborer in the country over which he now holds the guiding hand.

Hughes' message, in part, reads: "We cannot ignore the fact that the bond of blood and language has been strong enough to hold the United Kingdom despite the machinations of mutual enemies."

"Nor can we forget that we fought and bled together in the greatest war of all time. In our outpost of the British empire, Australians have realized to the full the significance of this mutual regard."

"Not only to us—but to the whole world—the continued friendship of the two great Anglo-Saxon races means peace and progress."

"We in Australia look to the sister democracy of America for co-operation in problems of mutual concern."

"Our destiny, like that of your western states, lies in the Pacific. On the shores of this vast ocean are gathered the bulk of the peoples of the earth. They differ in language, ideals and religious."

"The rapid modernization of many of these peoples may increase, rather than diminish, the problems which inevitably arise where peoples of different races congregate."

"So we feel that we—the white outpost of the Pacific—may look to the United States with a confidence born of mutual ideals."

"In our hands lies the destiny of the Pacific, and in our common task lies our strongest bond of friendship."

PINEAPPLE PUDDING

Don't neglect the pineapple with its throat soothing qualities. You will find this pudding really very nice. Use 1 cup of cold water, 1 cup of pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons of corn starch, 1/2 cup of sugar, 2 egg yolks. Put all but the egg yolks in a double boiler to heat. When hot add the eggs. When smooth and thickened add the beaten whites of the eggs and then 1 cup of pineapple cut in small squares. Put in the oven and brown. Serve hot or cold with whipped cream. Peaches are very good served this way, too.

JAPANESE NOW

Cruise of Naval Academy Midshipmen

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The annual summer cruise of the naval academy midshipmen will take the officers-to-be to Christiania, Norway; Lisbon, Portugal; Gibraltar and Guantanamo, Cuba, this year. The practice squadron will consist of the battleships Connecticut, South Carolina, Kansas, Michigan and Minnesota, according to present plans. The squadron will leave Annapolis, June 4, and return home Aug. 29, Rear Admiral Charles F. Hughes will probably be in command.

CHICAGO HONORS MARY

Chicago's Four Hundred was so elated over the success of Mary Garden's tour of the country with her opera company, that it honored her with a reception. Miss Muriel McCormick, daughter of Harold Fowler McCormick, Chicago millionaire, is shown seated beside the prima donna-director.

Kash On Limbs Itched Intensely Cuticura Heals

"My trouble began with a breaking out like eczema on both limbs. It broke out in a rash and the itching and burning was intense. I scratched and scratched and scratched both limbs and my clothing aggravated it and made it worse. I lost sleep at night as it itched and burned so."

"I tried several different things but they did not help me. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and immediately sent for a sample. I bought more and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Frank H. Lockett, Main St., Chatham, Mass.

Make Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum your daily toilet preparations and watch your skin improve.

have that daily backache, the stiffness, lameness and sharp, rheumatic twinges. You may have frequent headaches and dizzy spells, too, and some annoying bladder irregularity. Don't wait for more serious trouble! Help your weakened kidneys while there is time. Your friends and townspeople recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These Are Lowell Cases:

CROWLEY STREET

Capt. W. A. Dolan, city fireman, 56 Crowley street, says: "I have suffered with my kidneys mostly when I have caught cold which has settled in my back. There has usually been a constant aching there and my back has been very stiff and sore. I have bought Doan's Kidney Pills at McElroy's Drug Store and they have given me relief."

Time Strengthens Confidence
Nearly three years later, Capt. Dolan added: "I have as much confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I endorsed them before."

PUFFER STREET

Mrs. H. M. Lorrain, 35 Puffer street, says: "I had severe attacks of backache and couldn't rest at night. In the morning I was as tired as when I went to bed. I often had dizzy headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly and annoyed me. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family with benefit, so I got a supply and used them. They soon had my back strong and well and I felt like a different woman. I am always glad to endorse Doan's."

B STREET

John Lorrain, 99 B street, says: "I was troubled a lot with my back. There was a steady pain in the small part and it was very weak and sore, and stiff at times, especially if I bent over or did any lifting. At times the kidney secretions were scanty and caused much annoyance. They were also highly colored. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and I might say they have cured me, for it has been some time since I have had any trouble."

NEW YORK STREET

Mrs. Roy Laurie, 155 New York street, says: "I had attacks of kidney trouble and my back bothered me. I felt weak and languid and often had dizzy headaches. I knew my kidneys were causing the trouble, for they were weak. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. The dizziness and headaches left and I was free from that dull, tired feeling. My kidneys also became regular in action."

Mrs. Laurie gave the above statement on May 3, 1917, and on February 17, 1917, she added: "I have had no return of kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

GERMANY OFFERS FIRST FARE CUTS IN OTHER R. R. SHARES ADVANCE

CASH PAYMENT
PARIS, May 18.—The reparations commission officially announced yesterday that Germany had placed at its disposal 150,000,000 gold marks, partly in gold and partly in foreign currency. It was added that the reparations commission was making arrangements to accept delivery of the payment.

Agree to Make Payment
BERLIN, May 18.—(By Associated Press)—The time limit for the reparations commission was fixed absolutely as June 30 by the reparations commission to the German government today regarding execution of the recent ultimatum. The note demands the organization of the German army of 100,000 be brought into conformity with the peace treaty by June 15, subsequent months to be rendered by factories stopped, and all arms in possession of civilians surrendered by June 10.

The note demands a reduction in all classes of police to a total of 150,000 by July 15.

Strict Disarmament

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA GIVES CONCERT
The school orchestra of the Abraham Lincoln school gave a concert this afternoon, in the school hall, under the direction of Mr. Julius Weissenberg.

MRS. BERGDOLL FINED $7000—OTHERS FINED
PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll was sentenced yesterday to pay a fine of $7000 for the part she was convicted of having taken in the evasion of the draft law by her sons, Grover and Edwin Bergdoll. The judge, Crookshank of the United States district court, who pronounced the sentence, imposed an alternative sentence of one year and one day in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. Her fine must be paid by June 15.

First Bomb Attack STIRS BELFAST
BELFAST, May 18.—For the first time, a bombing attack on crown forces, so familiar in Dublin, occurred in Belfast last night. In the Falls district, the bombs were unskillfully directed and the police fired on the attacking forces, who fled. It is believed that several were hit.

COST OF LAWRENCE STREET PAVING JOB
The present discussion relative to paving costs in this city and the action of the chamber of commerce in preparing to solicit signatures for an initiative petition to compel the municipal council to call for bids on paving the city streets, this year makes the cost of the Lawrence street paving job done last year of more than usual interest.

ROLFE FINED $100 AT KEENE
KEENE, N. H., May 18.—George Rolfe, Litchfield garage owner, was fined $100 and was given a suspended jail sentence and Albert H. Tunstall of Brookfield, Mass., was fined $150 in the municipal court, yesterday for transportation of liquor through the city early last Sunday. More than 120 quarts of gin, whiskey and alcohol were found in Rolfe's automobile which was stopped after police had fired at it, wounding Clarence M. Connelley of Litchfield, Me. He is in a hospital awaiting a hearing.

Launch Drive for Initiative
you will have to help see this petition through.

WHY YOU HELP
"Will you all help get signatures?" asked President Chaffoux.

DEBATING SOCIETY TO PRESENT MOCK TRIAL
Next Friday evening at 8 o'clock the Greenhill Debating society of the Lowell high school will present a mock trial in St. Anne's parish school, Kirk street, under the supervision of Mary C. Joyce, teacher of oration at the high school. The trial will have to do with the case of "Peck vs. Peck" and there is every expectation that there will be plenty of fun for those who attend. General dancing will follow. Shirley Harris will be the judge. William O'Neill will be the defendant. Henry Peck and Ruth Peck will play the role of Mrs. Henry Peck. William McCarthy will be clerk of court. Helen Conaway, counsel for the plaintiff and J. Donald Adams, counsel for the defendant. The witnesses will include Helen Hogan, Frances Richardson, Brendan McEvans and George O'Hare. The jury will be made up of Ellen McEvoy, Edward Sullivan, Estelle Decker, Katharine Harrington, Gertrude Martin, Barbara Harrington, Ethel Starn, Margaret Reynolds, Dorothy Whidden, Margaret Quinn, Ruth French and Ella Mulligan.

MRS. IVES GUILTY
ST. ALBANS, Vt., May 18.—A plea of guilty of manslaughter was accepted in Franklin county court here today by Mrs. Kate Ives, charged with the shooting of Oliver Lovejoy, April 12, 1920. Judge Frank L. Fish sentenced her to from 5 to 20 years in the state prison at Windsor.

REMODELING MEMORIAL HALL
Work of remodeling the old Memorial hall into a modern state office building, was started this morning under the direction of General Contractor Frank J. Kelly. Kelly's firm applied for work. Only a few more days will be working before the building will be ready for occupancy.

STOCK MARKET

The following is a complete report, giving high, low and closing quotations:

NEW YORK, May 18.—Railroad shares made a fair showing in the stock market today, with a slight advance in the early part of the day. This advance was due to the fact that the railroad labor board had decided to accept the offer of the railroad companies to reduce wages. This decision was a relief to the railroad companies, who had been suffering from the high cost of labor.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The stock market today was characterized by a general advance in prices. The railroad shares were the leading feature, with a gain of 1 to 3 points. The steel shares also showed a gain of 1 to 2 points. The cotton shares were steady, with a slight advance in the early part of the day.

AMERICAN LEGION POST

Entertainment at Memorial Hall by Ladies' Auxiliary of Local Post

A delightful entertainment by the Ladies' auxiliary of the Lowell post, American Legion, was held Monday evening at Memorial hall. A feature of the occasion was an address by Mayor Perry D. Thompson, in which he lauded the work done by the legion for Americanism and the progress of the city of Lowell. The affair was by way of being preliminary to the big membership drive for 2500 auxiliary members, which will open in the near future. Mrs. Charles Young led the singing of the national anthem. As the opening number, and then Mrs. Mary Quinn Starr, the vice president, who was in the chair, delivered a brief address of welcome. Mayor Thompson's speech followed. He spoke of the achievements of the local auxiliary in making conditions more pleasant for wounded soldiers in hospitals in this section. The Dwyer sisters, well known local entertainers, presented song and dance numbers, with Miss Dorothy Leach acting as accompanist. There were solos by Miss Katherine Jennings, and Irish folk dancing by Mary and John McQuaid, with Miss Agnes Allen at the piano.

A special meeting of the legion body was held at the same time on the floor above, to take action relative to Memorial day activities, and representatives of the membership came downstairs and delivered addresses. Commander James Powers, of the Lowell post, assured the ladies of the aid and co-operation of the veterans, while John J. Walsh, of the state executive committee, also spoke. James J. Mulligan, Cambridge, also addressed the gathering. Mr. Mulligan is a member of the state Americanization committee. There was a solo by Francis Connors, and the evening's program was closed by the singing of "America." It was announced that the coming campaign for an enlarged membership will be headed by Mrs. Mary, who will direct activities, assisted by Mrs. Rose Mary Coleman.

WILL RECEIVE ANNUAL COMMUNION
The annual communion of the members of the C.M.A.C. will take place on the feast of the Sacred Heart, Sunday, June 12.

Bodies of 5212 Soldiers Arrive
HOBOKEN, N. J., May 18.—Bodies of 5212 soldiers from every overseas division of the United States army, every state in the union and every American cemetery in France save Romagne, were landed today from the transport Wheaton, which arrived yesterday from Antwerp and Cherbourg. The dead, the greatest number ever brought home by one ship, included 11 nurses. Funeral services will be held at the army docks, beginning Sunday.

Masonic Precedent Established
CONCORD, N. H., May 18.—What is believed to be a Masonic precedent for the country, was established here today when William D. Chandler of Concord was elected president for this state of the council of high priesthood, one of the branches of Masonry, following his election previously as grand master of the grand council, Royal and Select Masters, and grand high priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter. Mr. Chandler, who is editor and publisher of the Concord Evening Monitor, is thought to be the first man to be thus triply honored by grand Masonic bodies. Walter G. Africa of Manchester was today elected grand master of New Hampshire blue lodge Masons.

Two R. R. Men Run Down By Train
LEWISTON, Me., May 18.—While attempting to lift a hand car from the Maine Central railroad tracks in Auburn, this morning, Lloyd Prince and David King, Maine Central employees residing in Lewiston, were struck by train No. 5, traveling at 20 miles an hour. Prince was taken to the hospital, where both legs were amputated and his recovery is considered doubtful. His companion was not seriously hurt.

Adventures of The Twins

AFTER TAG TIGER

FLIPPETY-FLAP LOOKED THIS WAY, NANCY LOOKED THAT WAY, NICK LOOKED THE OTHER

Where was old Tag Tiger? Flippety-Flap shaded his eyes and looked this way, Nancy shaded her eyes and looked that way, and Nick looked the other.

Dear friends, they needn't have shaded their eyes, for the jungle in which they were searching was as sunless as a cellar, the great trees, and small ones, too, making a roof as perfect as any paper.

But it was this way. Tag, as you know, wears stripes. Yellow and black ones, all over him, and if there is anything in the world for in the jungle that is hard to see, it's stripes. They fool one completely, especially in a darkish place. Take Zippy Zebra, for instance! It's as certain as next Christmas that our little friends would never have seen him at all if he had not been right out in the bright sunlight and Zippy would at this very minute, most likely, be fooling away his time with lazy old Mr. and Mrs. Ostrich. Instead of giving pleasure to so many children in the circus. Yes, stripes are queer things, making you dizzy or half-blind or something so you can't see them. That's why Flippety-Flap and Nancy and Nick were shading their eyes now. They knew what I have just told you.

The jungle was very quiet! Most unusually so, and every time the fairymen stepped on a snappy branch with his big shoes, or one of the twins kicked a little stone, everybody jumped as though a cannon-cracker had exploded.

"What's the matter, do you s'pose?" wondered the fairymen at last. "There doesn't seem to be so much as a beetle around these woods. Where's every body gone? Do you suppose that that oldascal Tag Tiger, has had them all for his meals?"

Just then Nick's quick eye spied something through the trees.

IF YOU'RE A LIAR—BEWARE!

These are bad days for liars. Dr. James Cotton, Toronto, (inset) has invented an improved ether under whose influence a liar will tell the truth. But he won't divulge its secret because it's dangerous, he says. Above is a device, however, that it is claimed will detect a lie by registering blood pressure and respiration changes. It's the invention of William M. Marston (center), Boston lawyer and scientist, and Harvard faculty member.

BOARD SAID TO FEAR PUBLICITY

Commerce Chamber's Directors Voted to Keep Initiative Workers' Names Secret

Plans Made for Active Campaign for Gathering Signatures to Petition

Stated That No Coercion of Workers by Employers Will Be Supported

Interest continued unabated today in the hidden identity of the members of the chamber of commerce's board of strategy which is actively engaged in formulating plans for a campaign to gather several thousand signatures to an initiative petition dealing with street construction by contract.

It was learned today that the names of the strategists are being kept secret in accordance with a vote of the board of directors of the chamber at a meeting Monday. It is understood that the action was taken because of a feeling that it publicity were given to the names of the men charged with the work, they might suffer in their business or professional relations through being connected with pushing forward a movement that it is thought, may result in a bitter fight between those who favor and those who oppose the proposed change in methods of street construction.

It was recalled today that the origin of the chamber's report on the condition of the streets of the city, which was transmitted to the municipal council some time ago, and is in a sense the basis for the present petition for the initiative, has been kept shrouded in mystery. When the report was presented to the council, Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy asked Secretary-Manager George F. Wells to make known the names of the persons who had made the survey on which the report was based. This request was refused with the intimation that the names might be made known at some future time.

The members of the initiative strategy board met at 11 o'clock this morning to consider the plans that had been outlined for gathering signatures to the petitions that the public is to be asked to sign.

Members of No Coercion
The committee, it is known, is anxious to have the impression get abroad that members of the chamber, who are large employers of labor, will be supported in any attempt to line up their workmen and get their signatures attached to the petitions as a result of bringing pressure to bear.

As soon as the petitions are received from the printer copies will be sent to all of the 1100 members of the chamber asking each one of them to secure the signatures of at least ten registered voters. With the letters will go a stamped addressed envelope for the return of the petitions. Plans are also being formulated for placing the petitions in stores all over the city where they will be readily available for persons who wish to sign them.

To Scrutinize Names
It is expected that arrangements will be made to have every name attached to the petitions when they are returned subjected to a careful scrutiny by representatives of the chamber to determine whether the signers are registered voters and whether or not the signatures correspond exactly with the names on the election commission's lists. It is probable that the chamber will also have a representative present when the names on the petitions are canvassed by the election commissioners.

Members of the chamber's committee appointed to draw up the petition and accompanying order for presentation to the municipal council were busy today giving careful attention to the legal phraseology of the documents.

Asks Public to Aid in Rounding up Aliens

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A plea for public aid to the immigration service in apprehending aliens illegally in this country, was made today by Commissioner General Husband. He cited the case of 40 East Indians, deserters from a ship, picked up in Connecticut, "while former service men were walking the streets without work." The East Indians are held at Boston. If President Harding signs the immigration restriction bill, the commissioner said, all the immigrants it would admit probably would arrive within five months, permitting a reduction of employees at stations thereafter.

Mme. Curie Ordered to Take Rest

NEW YORK, May 18.—Madame Marie Curie, codiscoverer of radium, today was ordered by her physician to refrain from any social functions as possible in view of her exhausted condition. He said she had not fully recovered from effects of seasickness during her recent voyage to the United States. She was permitted to attend the meeting in her honor in Carnegie hall this afternoon, but was advised to remain indoors the remainder of the day and decline all other social engagements.

Initiative Campaign Started at Chamber of Commerce Luncheon This Noon

At a membership luncheon of the chamber of commerce in the New American restaurant at noon today, Pres. Harold L. Chaffoux read the text of the petition that is to be presented to voters for signatures during the next few days.

The petition is as follows:
"To the Municipal Council:
"We, the undersigned voters of said city, qualified to vote at city elections, hereby request your honorable board, under the provisions of section 50 of chapter 815 of the acts of 1911, to pass the following measure, to wit:

"An order determining the policy of the department of streets and highways in the construction and reconstruction of street surfaces.
"Be it ordered, that no reconstruction of streets or sidewalks with stone, block, brick, macadam, concrete, or other permanent pavement of similar lasting character shall be done except in accordance with a contract duly entered into between the city and some person, firm or corporation. Such contract shall be entered into only after bids therefor have been called for by public advertisement and shall contain such legal provision for the employment of laborers of persons resident of Lowell as the municipal council shall approve."

Members Have Decided
Previous to reading the petition, Pres. Chaffoux addressed the members, saying that the referendum recently submitted to them had made it plain that they had decided that better streets could only be obtained by making it obligatory on the street department that future construction work shall be done by contract. He said that large numbers of votes in the affirmative, cast in the referendum, were in the nature of a surprise. It shows that you want this movement put through, he asserted.
The speaker explained the methods to be used in getting signatures to the petitions. "We should have at least 1000 names of voters," he said; "if this could be done, we can get them. I think there is no question about that. This is not an activity of the board of directors alone; everyone of you will have to help see this petition through."

Will You Help?
"Will you all help get signatures?" asked President Chaffoux.
There was a prompt response. "Yes, sure," from a number of voices.

When the president called on all of those present who would take copies of the petition and endeavor to secure signatures all about the city, there was a prompt response. There were about 125 present at the luncheon.
The campaign for signatures is to be one of the most intensive ever conducted in this city. The city is to be divided into districts and members assigned to see that a thorough canvass is made for additions to the list of signers.

As each petition must be sworn to by some one of the persons signing it, it is announced that a notary public or justice of the peace will be present in the chamber's rooms Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week to administer oaths to persons who turn in petitions.

Talks On Sales Tax
Following his talk on the initiative petitions, President Chaffoux introduced Felix Vorenburg, vice president of the Gilchrist company, proprietor of a Boston department store, to talk on the proposed sales tax.

Mr. Vorenburg, in opening his address, spoke of a recent visit to Washington in the interest of taxation legislation and referred to the congressman from this district, John Jacob Rogers, as "one of the finest men I ever met." He said that the sum of four-and-a-half million dollars that the government proposes to spend this year is beyond ordinary comprehension. He said that if all persons were compelled to pay an equal share of this sum, some would be forced out of business and others would be forced to leave the country. "Some people get out of paying their share of the taxes," the speaker said. "I don't know how." He also stated that he believed that the excess profits tax and the income surtaxes in the higher brackets should be promptly done away with.

ANOTHER TEST FOR PUMPING ENGINE

A final official working test of the new Worthington pumping engine at the West Sixth street station of the water department will probably be given next Friday, according to Commissioner John F. Salmon. The commissioner received a telegram today from W. J. Blessing of Buffalo, N. Y., the representative of the Worthington Pump & Machinery corporation, the concern which installed the pump, announcing that he would reach Lowell tomorrow.

Mr. Blessing was previously here but when the time came to give the pump its tryout it was found that the boiler connected with it was incapable of giving the required 125 pounds of steam necessary for the test. Since then repairs have been made on the boiler and it is now performing as it should.

The Lowell total in the Boston college campaign for a $2,000,000 building fund, which was formally closed Monday evening, has now reached the $42,000 mark as the result of additional subscriptions which have been received by Dr. Michael A. Tighe, division chairman.

The Lowell campaign was one of the features of the drive discussed at a meeting of the state drive committee held in Faneuil hall, Boston, yesterday. This meeting was one of the most enthusiastic ever held in the famous old building because it was the first for

NEW HIGH MARK IN ARRESTS HERE

With this month's report of drunkenness arrests in Lowell make a new high mark for the year? April established a record of 131, which beat each of the three preceding months. January showed 104, February and March each had 126, a jump of 22. Then April trumped that, with another climb of 5. And this month, scarcely more than half over, has already 56 arrests recorded, up to and including this morning's batch of five. If you are fond of higher mathematics, here are the probabilities: Eighty-six drunks during eighteen days, makes an average slightly over 4.7 per day. If the same ratio continues for the remaining 13 days, the grand total will figure 157 and a trifle over. In other words, it will beat April's record by 14.7. As was said of Julius Caesar, "Oh, John Barleycorn, thou art mighty yet!"

SECOND ANNUAL OUTING

The second annual outing of the Overseers and Second Hands Social and Educational club of the Massachusetts mills will be held Saturday afternoon, June 11, at the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro. The members of the organization will journey to the neighboring towns in automobiles and a varied sporting program will be conducted on the grounds. A buffet luncheon will be served in the early part of the afternoon and later the guests will partake of a shore dinner. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of the following: G. H. ### FRANKLIN K. LANE DEAD

Former Secretary of the Interior Died at Rochester, Minn., Today

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 18.—Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, died at a local hospital today from angina pectoris. He was operated on here May 5 for gall stones and appendicitis and was said to be recovering when heart disease, from which he had suffered from time to time, during the past eight months, developed. Hospital physicians expressed the belief that the operation would remove the heart affection but an attack early today developed fatally.

Immediately after he had recovered from the influences of the anesthetic he said: "I am surprised to be alive. I hope to be able to live a long life doing good things for others without thought of money. He left no estate. After his resignation from the Wilson cabinet, Mr. Lane sought to recover his health and came here in January of this year. He was advised to spend the winter in a warmer climate and visited California, returning early this month. His condition was favorable for an operation and continued improvement was noted until the heart attack today.

TERROR TO MOONSHINERS

Mysterious Police Representative Nemesis to Dealers in Outlaw Tanglefoot

That phrase so well known to illicit traffickers in "shine" and so often pronounced by Judge Enright in the local police court, as the result of the tireless sleuthing of the liquor squad, was heard again this morning.
"One hundred dollars fine," quoth His Honor, when Mina Rouleau, proprietress of a lodging-house situated on Lee street, appeared before him charged with illicit sale, and pleaded guilty. Counsel for the defendant accepted the fine without appeal, and the municipal coffers were enriched.
It was all on account of the mysterious police representative, now working with the raiding squadron, that the Rouleau woman was haled before the bar of justice. This man, who Continued on Page Nine

WARNING SENT TO OREGON

Told to "Beware Fate of Madero, Who Failed to Change Policy and Fell"

Warning to Mexican President by Liberal Constitutionalists in Chamber

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—"Beware the fate of Francisco Madero, who failed to heed solicitations to change his policy, and fell," was the warning sent to President Obregon last night by liberal constitutionalist members of the chamber of deputies and the senate. This warning was contained in a memorial drafted at a caucus of the liberal-constitutionalists, and it made pointed charges that P. Elias Calles, secretary of the interior, and Adolfo de la Huerta, former president and now secretary of the treasury, had attempted to cause disaffection against the Obregon administration. The document was signed by 138 deputies, and several senators.

WITH GREEK ARMY IN ASIA MINOR

Constantine Vurgaropoulos, a prominent business man, of Market street, and former president of the local Greek community, has received a very interesting letter from his brother, Captain Harilaos Vurgaropoulos, who is now with the Greek army in Asia Minor. The young officer states that women and boys have joined the ranks of the Turkish army.
Capt. Vurgaropoulos is with the 30th Infantry of the First Machine Gun Co. and although but 30 years of age he is a veteran of three wars. He participated in the Balkan-Turkish war, the Balkan-Bulgarian war and the world war. Last year he received his degree of LL.B. from the Athens university and was preparing to take the examination for admission to the bar when his country called him. He is now located at Eskisehir, Asia Minor, and states that it will be but a short time before the Turks are defeated.

POPPY DAYS FOR WOUNDED VETERANS

The local post of the American Legion and the women's auxiliary of the legion will conduct "poppy days" here on May 23 and May 30 for the benefit of wounded veterans of the world war. A committee representing both organizations waited upon Mayor Percy D. Thompson in his reception room at city hall this morning and outlined their plans for the affair.
After hearing their story, the mayor gave the members of the visiting committee permission to conduct the two days here. It is planned to sell the poppies all over the city and the women's auxiliary will be in charge of the actual distribution. More detailed plans will be announced later. The receipts of the sale will go to aiding wounded and sick veterans in the local hospitals as well as those in the hospital at Groton.

REDUCTION IN TROLLEY FARES

The announcement that the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street railway are to place a reduced fare in operation in the Lowell district some time next week was received with little enthusiasm by either business men or the riders in the cars generally according to expression of opinion this morning.

WASHINGTON'S CHAMPION SWIMMER IN ACTION

SWIM AND WIN

"Health, Happiness and Wisdom," Says Champion

WASHINGTON, May 18.—"If you'd be healthy, happy and wise—swim."

That's the advice of Miss Elizabeth Bertha Smith, who attributes her Venus de Milo form, keen mind and joyous disposition to swimming.

"To remain happily vigorous, one must become normally tired physically every day," says Miss Smith. "Swimming does this better than any other sport—keeping mind and body free from corroding poisons."

When Miss Smith starts her diving stunts all others in the pool stop to watch. She makes the "swan," "jack-knife," "hand stand" and "running come back" dives look easy.

The latter is the most difficult of all dives. A complete backward turn is made in air and the diver strikes the water head first.

An amateur, she excels in high and fancy diving and the 40-yard dash. She also swims the 50, 110 and 220-yard distances in fast time.

Champion of District

Miss Smith is in the early twenties, is employed in the state department offices and holds the all-round diving and swimming championships of the District of Columbia.

She shares the paddling championship of the Delaware-Chesapeake division of the American Canoe association.

She is an expert horsewoman and won tennis honors at Northwestern university and basketball honors in Florida.

"I engage in athletics for the fun of it," she says. "I have pride in winning events, but that is secondary. Too many girls hold aloof from sports because they cannot excel. That's a foolish way of punishing one's self."

"Exercise keeps a girl's thoughts from a morbid trend—and goodness knows there are many 'fappers' today who need their thought diverted to wholesome channels."

CARPENTIER HAS DEMPSEY THINKING HARD

BY E. M. THERRY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16.—A lot of folks have a sneaking idea that Jack Dempsey is just a wee bit contemptuous of his opponent in the big fight.

Don't you believe it. Talking with the champ and watching him, you get this idea:

That Dempsey has learned a double-barreled lesson in the danger that lies in over-confidence and under-estimation.

That he learned the lesson from Jess Willard and Bill Brennan—in different ways.

That he figures Willard fell partly because he under-estimated Dempsey and that he himself came mighty near falling because he didn't take Brennan as seriously as he should.

Jack has a high opinion of Georges Carpentier, and he isn't backward about admitting it.

Takes No Chances

"Carpentier's a tough fellow all right, and I'm not taking any chances," he says.

"How many rounds do you figure on?"

"Well, I don't know," he answered. "You never can tell. But if I can keep my chin out of the way—"

The sentence was left unfinished. And Dempsey wasn't smiling—as he usually is. It was serious meditation.

For Jack takes the Frenchman seriously; as a skilful boxer, a hard hitter and a man able to take punishment.

"This fight will be just as important for me as the fight with Willard," he said. "It isn't going to be easy. And so don't get the idea that I'm going to be over-confident or that I'm not going to be 'right' when I enter the ring."

Ordinarily Dempsey doesn't like to talk "shop." But he's eager to do so with anyone who has seen Carpentier fight. Questions about the Frenchman's fighting methods and his ability to absorb punishment pop out in a stream.

Jack Benefits

There isn't any doubt but that Dempsey is doing a lot of thinking—and maybe worrying—about Carpentier. And that may be a good thing. For it will surely help him to avoid the pitfall of over-confidence.

Jack's early work here shows him to have been greatly benefited by his rest at Freddie Welsh's camp. He's vigorously healthy, with flexible muscles that are rapidly hardening under the more strenuous training. Jack looks and acts like a big boy. He's six foot one and a half and weighs close to 200. When he met Willard he weighed 188. He'll probably get down to 185 for Carpentier.

Despite the fact that Dempsey at 25 has been idolized and feted by hero-worshippers for two years as a champion, that in that time he has made a million or more and that he has close to another half-million coming to him if he knocks out the Frenchman, that the whole world today is talking about the man who a few years ago was riding freight trains from town to town to get $50 bouts—in spite of all that Dempsey still wears the same size hat.

His glory and prosperity haven't gone to his head. He's neither snobbish nor proud. He's unspoiled, unof having an open-air demonstration as a protest against the deceitful and underhanded work of Lloyd George. It was voted to instruct the central council to make plans and have the demonstration take place at an early date. After the business meeting a social session was held with the following numbers: Piano and violin solo by Misses Goggin; songs, Miss Katherine Balfry; Irish step dancing, Miss Harrington; reading, Miss McCarrin. The meeting closed by singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS
BOSTON, May 18.—The first annual convention of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters will be held at 555 Boylston street, Boston, Thursday and Friday, May 26th and 27th, with sessions each day, at 10:30 and 2:30 o'clock.

PLUNKETT COUNCIL HOLDS BUSY MEETING

The regular meeting of the Oliver Plunkett council, A.A.N.R.R., was held last evening in St. Peter's school hall. Chairman McInerney opened up the meeting at 8 o'clock. A large crowd was on hand and considerable business was transacted. Chairman McInerney reported that plans were completed for a mass to be held in St. Peter's church on May 30 for the heroes who died in Ireland. A committee was appointed to interview all senators and representatives from this district with regard to the recognition of the Irish republic, thus following the course of many other states. A large number of petitions were turned in signed by various voters of this city, to be laid before congress. Brother Healey spoke of the necessity

LANDIS WILL BE GLAD TO LAY ASIDE GAVEL

CHICAGO, May 16.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis will soon lay aside his gavel and go to bat for baseball with his hands clear down to the handle.

exclusively because I love the game. I want to do everything in my power to make it clean.

"At the time I accepted the position as baseball arbiter I felt that I could handle it with my bench job.

"The time is coming when I'll have to make a change. When that time comes I'll put away the gavel and go to bat for baseball altogether."

The judge hurries from his courtroom to baseball headquarters and from there to the ball park.

He doesn't miss a game when either the Sox or Cubs are at home.

His eyes snap with youthful pep as he watches the players warm up. He is a fan from the tips of his toes to the top of his gray hair.

During the few months he has been baseball's supreme dictator the judge has proven his ability to handle the highest salaried jobs in the game—$50,000.

Not once have his decisions been questioned.

Magnates, who before Landis took office were constantly quarrelling, followed him like lambs after he put on the baseball toga.

Landis settles perplexing problems as quickly and as judiciously as he does the crime cases he hears daily in his court.

Just as he has applied horse sense to settling people's troubles he has applied it to baseball.

There is a right and a wrong side to baseball quarrels and the czar has baited a thousand so far.

As long as he remains on the bench he will get a salary of $7500 for his court job and $42,500 from baseball. He'll draw $50,000 from baseball alone when he quits the bench.

When one man can restore the faith of millions of baseball fans in a game that had become tainted he's worth every cent of the $50,000 and more.

How long Landis will remain in favor with the baseball gods is another matter.

They are hard business men. In the last analysis they follow a leader just so long as he fits into their scheme of affairs.

FARMERS' BALL

Excellent Entertainment by
Sacred Heart Social Club

The Sacred Heart social club conducted its fifth annual farmers' ball last evening in the school hall in Moore street with a large crowd on hand to enjoy the various features of the occasion.

The grand prize march introduced a motley assembly of costumes and the judges had difficulty in selecting the winners. The prizes were finally awarded as follows: First prize for women, Miss Mary A. Hughes, characterizing a market woman; second, Miss Kitty Maher, a school girl, and third, Miss Mae Corey.

Miss Mae Corey. For the men's prizes the following were selected: First, Edward Muller, a blacksmith; second, Timothy Sheehan, as a clergyman, and third, John Lynch, as a farmer. The judges were Mayor and Mrs. Jerry D. Thompson, Martin Glinvan of the C.V.M.L., William Furey of the Manhattan and Edward D. Higgins of the Y.M.C.A. General dancing was enjoyed after the grand march.

The officers of the evening were as follows: General manager, Douglas Smith; assistant general manager, James Lannon; floor director, James Keenan; assistant, Cornelius Lynch; chief aid, John Ahearn; reception committee, Joseph Jennings, chairman, Thomas Hanley, James Durns, Joseph Conroy, Edward Clancy, Leroy McMahon, Henry McFarland, John Downes, Cornelius Lynch, James Keenan and James Lannon.

MURDER PUZZLE

Sociologists Study Murder
Case of Child Wife

FARMINGTON, Mo., May 15.—A married woman is to be tried on a murder charge in juvenile court here beginning May 19. She is Mrs. Letta Parsons and is only 13.

She shot her six-year-old stepdaughter to death in their home in Iron Mountain.

Is environment to blame for the act of the child-bride? That's the feature of the case sociologists are interested in.

She was orphaned when a baby. She grew up in the mining town of Iron Mountain, almost like a wild.

There she lived until last year. Then she married John Parsons, a young widower with two children, a boy of nine and a daughter, Lily, six. Household drudgery was not new to the girl-bride, but mothering two children only a few years younger than herself was a new problem and vexation.

LETTA PARSONS

Last March she was combing the little girl's hair. The child fretted, and ran from the house.

Mrs. Parsons picked up a shotgun standing in the kitchen and shot the girl to death.

Was this act the result of childish temper? Or was it due to a mental condition caused by a life that had contained little of childhood's joys?

These are the things the state of Missouri and sociologists are trying to determine.

Boston scientists declare the "hot dog" the most nourishing of all sandwiches. The "Frankfurter" sandwich, by many, contains 250 calories, while the higher priced corned beef, tongue, cheese and ham sandwiches yield below 200 calories.

Odic-Activity Ray to Conquer Air, Replace Radium, Discoverer Declares

PROFESSOR EDGAR L. HOLLINGSHEAD, PASADENA, CAL., SCIENTIST AND DISCOVERER OF THE ODIC-ACTIVITY RAY, WHICH HE CLAIMS WILL MAKE METAL LIGHT AS A BUBBLE, AND TAKE THE PLACE OF RADIUM FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES.

PASADENA, Cal., May 16.—The odic-activity ray, more powerful than the X-ray or the radium ray, is to completely conquer the air.

The giant sky liner, safe as any conveyance ever perfected, equal in luxury and comfort to the palatial greyhounds of the ocean lanes, is a possibility and probability of the near future.

Such were the announcements made today by the discoverer of this ray, Professor Edgar L. Hollingshead, scientist of this city, in an exclusive interview to The Sun.

For, he declared, this powerful ray will make metals so light that a huge steel ship would become light as a bubble.

Not only this, but the odic-activity ray, Professor Hollingshead claims, will take the place of radium, valued at $120,000 a gram, and revolutionize the scientific world in the treatment of certain diseases.

And the cost of lightening metals, of using the ray for medical purposes, is so minute as to be almost negligible.

The odic-activity ray, according to Professor Hollingshead, so far has successfully changed the weight of metal over 100 times in as many tests; it has caused hard clay to explode the instant the ray touched it; rock, opaque to the eye has been made transparent; and by means of the ray, an actual photograph has been taken through a solid sheet of lead.

One application of the ray on metal has caused it to become permanently cold—beyond the possibility of ever becoming heated. And it has instantly changed water into its primary gases—hydrogen and oxygen.

But of all the uses of the ray, including treatment for medical purposes, that of lightening metals is the greatest, and will revolutionize the traffic of the world, states Professor Hollingshead. Ships for passengers and freight will be of slight service; railroads will be tossed into the discard; and automobiles will be reduced to serviceable vehicles for taking short drives about the city.

In their stead will come individual airplanes 25 feet in length; larger aircraft the equivalent of the four, six or eight passenger touring cars; and so on, up to the giant sky liners of incalculable size.

These giant liners will appear as long, round, hollow needles, Professor Hollingshead declares, pointed at each end, and will travel without any visible means of propulsion.

WILL HONOR THE DEAD

American Legion Post to Honor Military and Naval Veterans

Deceased military and naval veterans of the nation's wars will be honored, and their services to the flag commemorated, in elaborate ceremonies now in course of preparation by the local post of the American Legion, for May 30, Memorial day. Tomorrow night the committee in charge of the plans for the occasion will hold a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. building, and final arrangements will be completed, after reports of progress have been turned in. The committee was elected at a gathering of the entire membership of the local post, held Monday evening in Memorial hall and comprises the following members: William D. Regan, chairman; Eugene Louprel, Joseph M. Dineen, John T. Melermont, Curtis Garvey, William E. Kirk and William Lyons.

Last night these representatives of the Lowell world war vets, of the legion organization, met at the "Y" and appointed sub-committees to handle the details of the projected exercises. Joseph Dineen was chosen to take care of all printing incidental to the occasion, while other members were selected to visit Rev. Arthur C. McGiffert, pastor of All Souls' Congregational church, and Rev. Fr. Mahan, O. M.I., chaplain of the Lowell post, Rev. Mr. McGiffert will be requested to officiate at the exercises in Edison cemetery, while Fr. Mahan will be asked to act as officiating clergyman at St. Patrick's cemetery.

The G.A.R. has extended an invitation to the legion members to attend a special memorial service to be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Congregational church, on Merrimack street. This will formally open the recognition of the departed heroes this year. Then on Monday morning the entire body of legionnaires will assemble at a designated point, and proceed to the South common, garbed in the uniforms in which they saw service with the army and navy of the country during the war. An altar will be erected at the common and here, in the presence of the members of the Lowell post, a military mass will be celebrated by Chaplain Mahan.

In the afternoon, in parade formation, the legion, together with the G.A.R., the Spanish War Veterans, the Sons of Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who have been invited to participate by the legion, which is conducting the parade, to parade with them, will visit both the Edison and St. Patrick's cemeteries, where the graves of the dead comrades will be decorated with flags and flowers, and where orations and other exercises will complete the ceremonies.

To End Nation-wide Marine Strike

NEW YORK, May 18.—The general strike committee of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association left today for Washington where it is understood they will confer with Secretary of Labor Davis on a proposal for settlement of the nation-wide marine strike. Committee members declined to discuss their mission. The invitation to visit Washington was extended to union representatives here last night by Mr. Davis. At the office of the American Steamship Owners' association, knowledge of a settlement proposal was disclaimed.

American Golfers Win Match

HOYLAK, England, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Charles Evans of Chicago and R. T. Jones of Atlanta, defeated T. D. Armour of Scotland, champion of France, and Harold H. Hilton, former British amateur champion, in a practice golf match today, 2 and 1. The players were even up with four holes to play. The Americans finished brilliantly, winning the 15th hole in three, halving the sixteenth in four and winning the 17th in three.

ACCEPT RESIGNATION OF SCHOOL TEACHER PASTOR DILTS

The resignation of Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, as pastor of Calvary Baptist church, was accepted at a meeting of parishioners last night, at which many members of the congregation expressed appreciation of the pastor's services and regret that he has decided to accept a call to a pulpit in Amherst. Deacon Richard Gumbel called the meeting to order, and Charles E. Lathrop was elected clerk to fill a vacancy caused by resignation. It was announced that Mr. Dilts' resignation is to become effective July

REV. ASA REED DILTS

31, and that he is to serve as pastor of the church until June 30. The letter of resignation in substance follows:

Twenty-two years and a half ago, I entered, at your call, upon the work of the Lord in this city, in this church, as your pastor. Though I have failed all too frequently in the full performance of my duty, I am yet conscious of having cherished a deep desire, and of having made an honest effort, under God, to meet faithfully my responsibility.

The time has now come, in the providence of God, when I feel called upon to lay down this work. And I lay it down, not because I am tired of it, not because I have not had a fair measure of success in it, but solely because the Master whom I am and whom I serve, has, as I believe, called me to another field of work.

I can never forget these more than 22 years spent among you, and with you, nor can I ever cease to be devoutly thankful for them. We have together known adversities and prosperities; and thankful as I am for the prosperities, I am still more thankful for the adversities. They have been to me a means of great blessing. Through them I have come to know the truth and faithfulness of God, as I might never have known them.

These years have been years of growth for you and for me; years of ever-deepening spiritual life for you and for me; years of expanding usefulness and power. For your patience with me, I am profoundly thankful. I look upon the work I have done in the world, and I hope my statement will lead other sufferers to try it, for I believe they will get the same splendid results as I did. ## LOCAL COMPANY LOSES BY NARROW MARGIN

By a narrow margin, that of 7-100ths of an inch, the United States Cartridge company was beaten in ammunition tests held at Quantico, Va., the marine headquarters for that section of the country. Representatives of the local concern, hurriedly dispatched South when the Cartridge company received news of the competition very shortly prior to its being held, were at Quantico during the three days of firing, May 11 to 13, and returned to Lowell Monday evening.

JAMES E. BURNS, Powder Expert.

They are William J. Robinson, assistant superintendent of the company's local plant, and James E. Burns, who heads the testing department. The tests were held to determine the brand of ammunition to be used at the national rifle matches scheduled for August at Camp Perry, Ohio. The Union Metallic Cartridge company of Bridgeport, Conn., won the series of tests by the slightest margin. The firing was of 30-caliber cartridges, with rifles in machine gun tests.

Last year the local company did not enter the competition, because of reorganization processes which are still in progress. Nevertheless, it was decided to send representatives this year, despite the fact that changes are still going on at the plant here. The U. S. Cartridge company came third in the tests, with only 7-100ths of an inch separating it from the winner. The Western Cartridge company was second; the Frankford Arsenal, Philadelphia, was fourth; and the Peters' Cartridge company was fifth.

LADIES' AUXILIARY, A.O.U. The regular meeting of the Ladies' auxiliary, A.O.U., was held last evening in A.O.U. hall, Middle street, with a large attendance. Routine business was transacted and arrangements were made for a character party to be held in the near future.

IS OVER TROUBLES

Miss Moberg Says She Can't Find Sufficient Words to Praise Tanlac.

"I really can't find words to express the praise I should like to give Tanlac for restoring my health," said Miss Anna M. Moberg, popular high school teacher, residing at 127 Copeland st., Cambridge, Mass. Miss Moberg is a member of one of the most prominent families of Cambridge, and has scores of friends.

"I caught a severe cold four years ago which left me in a very weakened condition and with a persistent hacking cough that worried me day and night. I would cough until I turned purple in the face and my breath was always left me completely exhausted. I coughed most on arising in the morning on going to bed at night and during the night hours. I seemed that I had no strength or energy at all. My appetite was very poor, and many days I looked after my duties in the school room without any nourishment at all except a cup of coffee. I often coughed so much at night I scarcely slept any, and the horror of those nights was simply terrible. I was looking so thin and pale my friends were asking what on earth was the trouble with me. It became an effort for me to attend to my duties as I should and many mornings I felt so bad I actually dreaded to go to the class room. I had tried many treatments, but nothing helped me until I got Tanlac. I have taken four bottles of this great medicine now, and can truly say that I never felt better in my life. I go to the class room in the morning with all the pleasure I used to have in my work before I got sick. I look Tanlac is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and I hope my statement will lead other sufferers to try it, for I believe they will get the same splendid results as I did. importance, but this is a statement which is at absolute variance with all the concepts of society."

In conclusion the memorial declared that Francisco Madero's friends were convinced of the desirability of some of his alleged supporters. It was said these friends visited Madero in 1913, and told him it was necessary for him to change his policy.

"But Madero," the memorial went on, "confident of his popularity, blind in his incapacity to conceive of wrong and sure of the loyalty of those who were represented as disloyal, heeded not and within a month there was begun the most prolonged tragedy this nation has ever known. At this moment, members of the Mexican congress who have signed this document call upon you to make a supreme effort that history may not be repeated, and place at your service their loyalty and patriotism and their wishes for the prosperity of the nation."

"Secrecy of the nation" were charged with attempting to use their offices to propagate radicalism. There was no request made, however, for the resignations of the two members of the cabinet.

Radical sympathizers attempted to force their way into the chamber of deputies last night to attack members of the liberal-constitutional party, who were holding a caucus there. The men engaged in the disorder were dispersed by the fire department.

The streets near the congressional building were filled all the afternoon with curious people who were awaiting developments. Aurelia Manrique, a socialist deputy, made an impassioned harangue, and large numbers gathered to break into the chamber. The timely arrival of the firemen stopped the demonstration and the radicals transferred their activities to the Alameda park. In the center of the city, but the firemen again interfered and the crowd was dispersed. One socialist deputy, who remonstrated with the policemen, was arrested.

In the meantime the members of the liberal-constitutional party had left the building. Some of them were openly carrying arms, but no attacks were made upon them. An explanation was made later in the evening that there was no attempt to prohibit socialist deputies from entering the chamber, but that the doors had been closed to forestall a possible demonstration by spectators. The crowds around the building, however, were led to believe that there was governmental discrimination against the socialists and in favor of their opponents.

SHOWS HOW ARTISTS MAKE THEIR PICTURES

The actual way in which pictures are painted was given a practical demonstration by Charles Hopkinson of Boston in a talk on some aspects of the painter's art in the Whistler house last night under the direction of the Lowell Art association. Preceding the lecture a business meeting of the association, presided over by Rev. C. T. Billings, vice president, was held at which the following named persons were elected directors of the organization: Joseph A. Nesmith, P. W. Coburn, P. A. Chase, Mrs. Mary E. Wood, Miss Mary G. Stevens, Mrs. C. P. Nichols, P. S. Marston, Mrs. A. T. Sanford, Hugh J. Molloy, Mrs. Joseph Talbot, Miss Angie Cushing, Miss Bessie B. Hildley, Mrs. L. S. Fox, Miss Ruth Burke, Rev. C. T. Billings, J. G. Walcott, Miss Helene Abels, Rev. A. C. McCliffert, Donald Cameron and Theodore E. Parker.

ANOTHER NEW RULE
Beginning next fall, no student at the Lowell high school will be allowed to continue any subject unless he secures a rank of 70 per cent, or more in that study, according to a new rule announced by the school authorities. Hereafter, a student getting 65 per cent, or over in a given subject has been allowed to continue it the following year. Next year credit will also be given those who take vocal music one day a week or orchestra music one day a week.

SISTER MARY'S PARTY

June is Sure a Delightful Time for Luncheons and Dinners

BY SISTER MARY
The fore part of June is a delightful time for luncheons and dinners. If there is to be a June bride in your circle of friends a little party in her honor would surely please her and your entertaining would be over and done with before the weather grows so hot that even your guests may sigh at the prospect of sitting in their best clothes.

My Own Recipes
Serve the strawberries with the hulls on and powdered sugar. The consommé is served in bouillon cups. The croquettes should be passed by a maid if there is one. If the hostess is doing her own serving she may bring the croquettes to the table after the last cup of bouillon is placed and the guests will pass the plate to each other. The croquettes are left on the table during the course and removed with the cups. The croquettes and asparagus are served on individual plates in the kitchen. The rolls should be passed with sugar and butter, and the radishes, olives and nuts are passed and left on the table until the dessert. The cheese cups are served on a bread and butter plate with the salad. The pudding may be served on plates or bread, low standing sherbet glasses. The menu is simple enough for the hostess to prepare and serve herself.

Chicken Croquettes
Two and one half cups chopped cold boiled chicken, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 1 dessertspoon minced parsley, 2-3 tablespoons butter, 6 tablespoons flour, 1 cup chicken stock, 6 tablespoons milk, 1 egg yolk, salt and pepper. Crumbs, egg and fat.
Choose a chicken about one year old. Boil until tender. Remove meat from bones and chop. Strain stock, cool and skim off fat. Make a thick sauce by melting butter, stirring in flour and adding stock slowly, stirring constantly. Stir in yolk of egg beaten with the milk. Season with salt and pepper and add chicken which has been well mixed with salt, pepper and parsley. Spread on a platter to cool. When cool shape into balls, dip in egg slightly beaten with 2 tablespoons cold water, roll again in crumbs and fry in deep hot fat.

Nesselrode Pudding
Twenty large chestnuts, 4 eggs (yolks), 1-2 cup sugar, 2 cups cream, 1-2 cup seeded raisins, 2 ounces candied pineapple, 1-2 cup currants, 1 cup whipped cream, syrup to cover fruit.
Peel and blanch chestnuts. Cook chestnuts in this syrup to cover till tender. Reserve 6 chestnuts and press the rest through a sieve. Cook raisins and currants in syrup until plump and tender. Add the 6 chestnuts cut in small pieces and the pineapple cut in pieces. Beat yolks of eggs with sugar and pour over the 2 cups of cream scalded in double boiler. Return to boiler and cook until mixture coats spoon. Add chestnut puree. Turn into mold and partly freeze. Then add cream whipped stiff. When frozen beat in the fruit and nuts drained from syrup. Let stand an hour longer before serving. Serve with whipped cream or boiled custard.

TRADE FRAUDS IN ANCIENT BABYLON!

This is the second of four articles, important alike to business man and consumer, written for The Sun by Chairman Thompson.

BY HUSTON THOMPSON.
Chairman, Federal Trade Commission
Modern chemistry is achieving veritable wonders in the way of substitutes. Hardly a season passes without some new, synthetic product of the laboratory being placed on the market to meet the needs of the many who cannot afford to purchase the genuine article.

We marvel at the progress of science and recognize the economic value of the achievements. But does this justify the growing practice of enterprising tradesmen in "passing off" imitations under trade names that lead the unwitting public to believe they are genuine?

The use of deceptive and misleading marks of origin and of false statements as to the quality of goods is as old as commerce itself. Not long ago, a beautiful vase was found among the ruins of ancient Babylon. It was the offering of a pious worshipper to the city god, and was marked "real lapis lazuli."

But the teeth of time had gnawed through the outer surface and exposed an inferior substitute underneath. Today there is a prolific misbranding of goods of all kinds. Our housewife carries home what she thinks is an ivory or tortoise-shell comb, a coral necklace or a bit of "jade" or "jet," which in reality is celluloid or some other pyralite.

Let us accompany the inexperienced purchaser of knit goods or fabric. What does he know of the actual wool or silk content in a material described as "all wool," "all merino," or "all silk?"

Hope Hopes to Make a Film That'll "Knock 'em Cold"

BY JAMES W. DEAN
A girl who lived in Houston, Tex., attended boarding school in New Orleans. A Houston newspaper conducted a beauty contest.

Schoolmates sent the girl's photograph to the newspaper. She won the contest.

The girl was Hope Hampton. There seemed to be magic in the name of Hope, for she was offered movie contracts by several producers.

She refused these and went to a dramatic school in New York. After six months at the school Leatrice Perrell, French director, gave her the leading role in "A Modern Salome."

That was released less than a year ago. Hope is only 12 now.

Hope didn't like the picture. She was then starred in "Love's Penalty," a recent release. Several reviewers said that the work of Miss Hampton was good, but that the story was weak.

So now Hope is filming "Star Dust." Dannie Hester's widely read story, with her own producing company, James Rennie is her leading man. This is his first picture since his marriage to Dot Gish.

Miss Hampton has never been on the stage, but in "Star Dust" she makes her debut on the stage—on the screen, for it's a stage play.

A Heritage
Your grandchildren and your great grandchildren may see and hear Wendell Wilson make his speech declaring war against Germany.

Wendell McMahon is trying to induce the former president to appear before Orlando Kellum's talking picture device.

Attempts are also being made to get Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Sonnino, Ebert and other personages of the peace conference to make the synchronized records.

If the plan is successful copies of the films and records will be presented to the Smithsonian Institute.

Photographers Ben Chira
The American Society of Cinematographers in Los Angeles passed a resolution forbidding members of the society to film the proposed picture depicting the life of Clara Hamon.

The resolution was introduced by Rene Gulsart, reported to have refused an offer of $500 a week to photograph the film. It calls for dismissal from the society for any photographer making the film.

Marion Fairfax, producer of "The Lying Truth," gave Gulsart a long-term contract after he had refused the Hamon offer.

A real circus was used in filming "Circus Heroes," the newest hall-room comedy.

John Bowers and Leatrice Joy have the leads in "The Poverty of Riches," an original photoplay by Leroy Scott.

Corlino Griffith and Catherine Calvert are making scenes for "Moral Fibre" at Yaphank, site of Camp Upton.

William DeMille is to screen an original story of Rita Welman. Lois Wilson, Jack Holt and Charles Ogle will be in the cast.

The straw hat Charlie Ray wore in "The Ol' Swamin' Hole" was auctioned off for $200 which went into the Armenian relief fund.

FOR LOWELL BATTERY

City Will Pay Good Price for Training and Camping Ground

It will cost the city of Lowell at least $5200 to purchase Spalding park for the use of two local units of the 102d Massachusetts artillery, as recently requested by Capt. W. C. MacBryne, commanding officer of Battery B of this city.

According to the figures of the assessors, the total valuation placed on the park and its buildings is that amount. The grand stand and bleachers are valued at $3000 and the five and a half acres of land comprising the park at $2200. The owners are Peter Roach and James J. Kennedy.

Usually when the city takes over a piece of property the owners claim 25 per cent. above the assessed value, as allowed by law. This would bring the total cost up to $6800, if the city was unable to negotiate satisfactorily with the owners and the matter went to court.

The municipal council received a request from the battery at a recent meeting to take over the property. The communication was filed and Mayor Thompson said today that as soon as the battery's horses arrive definite action will undoubtedly be taken relative to securing the park.

FREED

Governor Blaine has pardoned John Dietz (above), closing Wisconsin's most famous court case. Dietz served ten years of a long sentence for killing one of a posse that tried to arrest him in 1910 in a court action growing out of his years of battling against powerful lumber interests.

CASES HEARD IN THE POLICE COURT

Charles H. Abbott, charged with drunkenness and arrested also in connection with a capias for non-support, got a five months suspended sentence on the drunkenness charge, a warning that a four months' sentence now hanging over him on the non-support charge may be imposed, and a goody stating from Judge Knight in police court today. "Only the intercession of your wife saves you today," was His Honor's word to the defendant.

Peter F. Curley, also on the cards for drunkenness, was recorded a three months' sentence at the house of correction, and was fortunate enough to have this sentence suspended for six months. He was arrested by Peter Cawley.

The case of Leo J. Gauvreau, neglected, was put over until tomorrow, when the defendant failed to appear. His wife was present, and told the court of not being aided financially by her husband, who, she declared, is receiving $145 a month from the government. At first Judge Knight was inclined to issue a capias for Gauvreau, but finally granted the defendant until tomorrow to put in an appearance.

Three drunks were given their freedom prior to the opening of court, by Probation Officer Slattery.

WOMEN'S INDUSTRIAL CLUB
Wednesday, May 25, has been set as the date for the annual election of officers for the Women's Industrial club of the Massachusetts mills and it is expected that the affair will be a most lively one, for there are several candidates for the various positions and all are doing their utmost to win out. The candidates whose names will appear on the ballot are as follows: President, Miss Nora Cryan and Miss Kate Gallauch; vice president, Miss Mary Cunningham; Miss Emma Ellis; Miss Helen Lynch and Miss Rose Verge; secretary, Miss Mary Cassidy; Miss Anne Patenaude; treasurer, Miss Lucy North and Miss Flora White. The election ballot will be used and polls will open during the noon hour and from 5 to 6 p. m., and all women employees of the mill are eligible to cast their vote.

Co. crashed into his machine on the Lawrence road late yesterday afternoon. His machine was wrecked in the collision, while the electric was slightly damaged, but fortunately no one was injured. The accident occurred on the tracks at a point near Stanley-on-the-Merrimack, shortly after 5 o'clock. Mr. Schaack was driving his car to Lawrence, when he was forced into the car tracks by a truck and touring car coming in the opposite direction. He attempted to swing his machine back onto the road, but was unable to do so, and when he saw a Lowell-bound electric coming at a fair rate of speed he stopped his machine and jumped. A few seconds later the car crashed into the auto.

RAILROAD WAGE CUT JUSTIFIED

Labor Board Declares Prevailing Conditions Warrant Readjustment Downward

Amount of Reduction Not Yet Determined—Will Be Announced June 1

CHICAGO, Ill., May 18.—The United States railroad labor board announced late yesterday that it had decided that "prevailing conditions justify to an extent, yet to be determined, a readjustment downward of the wages of the carriers which are parties to the disputes already heard by the board."

The announcement, which affects labor on practically every road in the country, was entirely unexpected, as the board only began formal consideration of the case Monday.

The board declared it would hand down its final decision in all wage disputes docketed prior to April 18 on June 1, to be effective on July 1. Disputes filed since April 18 will be heard on June 6, "it being the purpose of the board to make its decision of the disputes heard June 6, effective on July 1."

The railroads completed their evidence May 7, and Monday B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, filed the employees' final statement.

The text of the board's announcement follows:

"Whereas, under date of April 6, 1921, the United States railroad labor board, adopted a resolution, which recited, among other things, that in the judgment of the board, it is desirable to hear at one time and decide in one decision, so far as may be possible, the question as to what may constitute just and reasonable wages for all classes of employees of carriers parties to decision number two as to whose wages there may be disputes; and,

"Whereas, the board has now heard the evidence and arguments of both parties to all such disputes which were filed and docketed prior to April 18, 1921, but since said date a large number of applications for decision on similar disputes have been filed and there are reasonable grounds to believe that still other such applications are about to be filed; and,

"Whereas, the railroad labor board has this day, by formal resolution, declared that in its judgment, based upon the evidence before it in the disputes already heard, prevailing conditions justify to some extent, yet to be determined, a readjustment downward of the wages of the employees of the carriers which are parties to the disputes already heard by the labor board; therefore, be it resolved:

"1.—That this board will on June 1, 1921, announce its decision, covering the disputes as to wages between carriers and their employees, which have been heretofore heard by the board, to become effective July 1, 1921.

"2.—That Monday, June 6, 1921, be set as the date when this board will hear the representatives of the parties to disputes filed since April 18, 1921, or which may yet be filed and docketed prior to June 6. It being the purpose of the railroad labor board to make its decision of the disputes heard June 6, 1921, effective July 1, 1921."

Extends to All Classes

A general reduction of wages for unskilled railroad employees, effective July 1, which was forecast by the railroad labor board in an announcement last night, will be made the basis of reductions extending to all classes of railroad employees, it was understood today.

Although only the Chicago, Great Western, the Chicago & Alton and a few other carriers have requested that the wage reductions be extended to all classes, provision was made by the board in its announcement for the filing of other petitions up to June 6, and it is believed others of the 150 Class A roads will amend their applications to include shop, train service and other classes of employees. The new applications filed up to June 6, the board's announcement said, would be decided to take effect also on July 1.

No intimation was given in the board's announcement as to the probable extent of the cut. Last July the board increased wages of unskilled labor and some other classes 20 per cent, making it retroactive to May 1, 1920.

"The general effect of the decision will be to retard track work," said S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western. Other railroad executives said track maintenance and repair crews had been kept at skeleton strength hoping for a wage cut effective April 1. Disappointment was expressed that the cut was to be delayed until July 1, as by that time, it was said, the heaviest part of track rehabilitation work is generally completed.

The decision last July affected approximately 2,000,000 men and granted increases totaling nearly $60,000,000 a year. The average raise then was 20 per cent. The normal number of unskilled employees on Class A roads is 566,000, but, in anticipation of a wage cut, the number of maintenance employees has been kept considerably below that figure.

Turns Failure Into Success—Girl Wins as Dealer in Men's Clothing

MISS ADA SMITH

SALINA, Kan., May 17.—Seven years ago Ada Smith, then 17, returned to "the old home town." Her family was engaged in the men's clothing business and their store was "on the rocks."

Miss Smith had been working as a stenographer in Chicago and going to night school. She had saved $537 for a course in the University of Chicago to become a welfare worker.

Miss Smith stayed home to take charge of the store. It's debt aggregated $4000. It was on wholesalers' black lists. It owed $900 back rent. The girl paid creditors $5 to $50 from her savings. After much argument she obtained a credit of $100 for latest style haberdashery to change the "tone" of the shop.

Today she has paid off all debts.

has refurbished the store with modern fixtures, has an up-to-the-minute stock, and is doing an annual business of $65,000 to $75,000.

"I was told that a woman couldn't succeed in a men's clothing business," says Miss Smith. "I told them I would show 'em, if they'd give me the chance."

"What it took to succeed was determination—and work, hard work. I had no false pride. Even today, with success assured, I get down on my knees with a mouth full of pins to take measurements of suits."

Miss Smith belongs to the chamber of commerce, the Merchants' association and the Dorian Club of Business and Professional Women.

And she has built a new home for her mother and is educating her brothers.

Quiet In Tug River Valley

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 18.—The few reports received here from the upper Tug river valley early today indicated that the night had been quiet. The opposing factions in the industrial disturbances of the past week gave no indication that they were still on guard. Kentucky guardsmen as well as the West Virginia state police continued to hold their positions.

DIED AFTER BEING STRUCK BY AUTO

An inquest into the death of Antonio St. George, who died April 23 after being struck by an automobile truck, was held this morning at the police court before Judge John J. Pickman. Fred H. Gilman, driver of the vehicle, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter, and his case was continued to May 23, to await the inquest report. He was bailed in the sum of $2000 by W. J. Bucheck, his employer.

MINSTREL SHOW AND DANCE

All is in readiness for the minstrel show and dance which will be held in the club rooms of the Massachusetts mills Friday evening. The affair will be given under the auspices of the Massachusetts Associates, a branch of the industrial club and the following committee is looking after arrangements: Mrs. Sadie Beardon, chairman; Miss Mary Powell, Miss Laura Garrison, Helen Quinn, Miss Ella Booth, Frank Brooks, Charles Benoit, Anthony Booth, John Twelley and Thomas Groucke.

MASS. MILLS ATHLETIC CLUB

A regular meeting of the athletic association of the Massachusetts mills was held last night with President John Cheswick in the chair. Committee reports were heard and routine business transacted. It was announced that the next regular meeting will be held on the evening of the third Friday of June.

STRENGTH RESTORED AFTER INFLUENZA

"I had a severe attack of influenza," says Mrs. Henry H. Miller, of No. 121 Elliott street, Hattiesburg, Va., "and it seemed practically impossible for me to recover my strength. I was tired all the time and couldn't undertake any work without resting every few minutes. At times my condition was so bad that I had to go to bed and I was also under the care of a nurse. I suffered from rheumatism, too, in my limbs and my head ached and I was very nervous."

"Years ago I had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they helped me so much then that I decided to give the remedy another trial. In a very short time I could see that the pills were helping me and soon I was able to do my own work without unusual exertion. Headaches no longer bother me, my nerves are stronger and I feel better than I have for some time. I cannot recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too strongly."

A useful booklet, "Building Up the Blood," containing a special chapter on the after-effects of the grip, will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or you can order them direct by mail, postpaid, 60 cents a box.—Adv.

NO FIREHOUSE FOR OAKLANDS DISTRICT

There is very little possibility of the residents of the Oakland district having a firehouse in their section of the city in the near future. It is generally believed at city hall, although members of the municipal council believe that such a building will be a necessity there eventually.

Mayor Harry D. Thompson said today that the Oakland district is being taken care of today better than ever before as far as fire protection is concerned. New modern motorized apparatus has recently been installed at the High street engine house and work is now under way to improve the water service in that section. He said that he believed the situation would be better when a new house would be necessary but under present conditions and with so many other projects under way, he thought it out of the question. There certainly wouldn't be money available for the work this year, he added.

Commissioner John F. Salmon, head of the fire department, favors a new house in the Oakland district providing the funds were available. But at the present time they are not, he said.

"The residents of the Oakland district are getting great water service," continued the commissioner, "and I think this is as important a factor in fire protection as anything else. What we should have is a better fire alarm system so that the apparatus won't lose time once the alarm is sent in. Here in Lowell we have a system that has been in use for half a century and it takes altogether too long for an alarm to ring in. I was down in Cambridge the other day and happened to be in a firehouse when an alarm was sounded. There was no long drawn out delay between the stroke of the alarm. They sounded in a quick, snappy manner and the firemen were not delayed in getting out of the house."

If a bungalow type of house were to be erected in the Oakland district the cost would be in the neighborhood of $30,000, at present prices. The new house in the Highlands which is to be started in a day or two will cost more than mal announcement that the drive had been a success. Among the speakers was Humphrey O'Sullivan of this city. Dr. Tighe announced Lowell's grand total and also announced the $5000 gift of St. Patrick's church. He said that it was only through the urging of Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., that Monsignor O'Brien let it be known that he had made so generous a contribution to the drive.

When mention was made of the fact that the French-speaking parish of St. Jean Baptiste church had contributed $2500 to the fund, through the efforts of the Oblate Fathers and the parish chairman, Napoleon Vignat and Victor Rochette, both of them B. C. men, John F. Fitzgerald came forward from the rear of the stage and suggested three cheers for that parish.

THE EFFICIENT WOMAN

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of 50 years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force and energy. In the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

Thousands of women have succeeded through daily baths, exercise in the fresh air, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of female weakness.—Adv.

Kilbane Sees One Edge For Jack Dempsey

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion
Jack Dempsey will have a big edge on Georges Carpentier in the matter of delivering a devastating punishment in the big fight at Jersey City on July 2. Dempsey is wonderfully endowed by nature to give and take a punch. He can, in fact, afford to take two punches to land one and the one punch he lands, in the majority of cases, will be more damaging than the two he takes. I do not believe Carpentier can hurt him in the body something I do not expect him to attempt. Georges will play for the head, but he will find that portion of the Dempsey anatomy a pretty hard nut to crack. The champion has an iron jaw, a heavy chin, a flat, fighting Irish nose that cannot be "busted" and eyes that are hard to cut. Also his frame is so wonderfully rugged as to withstand with comparative ease, the most powerful punch.

Before Dempsey fought Bill Brennan the second time there was some question as to his ability to take punishment. He had never been called

McNULTY WINS DAILY PRIZE IN TOURNAMENT

McNulty, who set up the splendid three-string total of 251, won the daily prize yesterday in the Highland Daylights tournament on the Crescent alleys. He led the high single and the three picked strings. The leaders in all classes, including scores of last night follow:

Individual—McNulty 341, Lutenier 337, Whitlock 347, Harral 335, Dr. Horne 342.

Two men—Bray-Espinoza 762, Sullivan-Dr. Horne 688, Jodan-Panton 655, Bray-Schombom 652.

Three men—Bray-Espinoza-Hornden 1024, Whitlock-Espinoza-Hornden 1024, Espinoza-Panton-Bray 1021, Sullivan-Lutenier-Dr. Horne 957.

Daily prize—McNulty 341.

Weekly high single—Bray 150.

Weekly three picked strings—Bray 412.

THE INSIDER

Pete Stinchcomb, the Ohio state star, has cracked the "Big Six" broad jump record with a leap of 23 feet and 1 inch.

Manager George Gibson put a bashful rookie in the name of Johnny Moran in the game the other day. All he did was hit a single, a double and a triple and make a sacrifice hit.

The dictionary has a lot of words that get your goat; Of golfers friends have coined a new word, "The Insider."

More words than Webster wrote.

Equaling the 100-yard record of 10 3-5 seconds is becoming ordinary. Allan Woodring of Erie is the latest to pull a "Charley Paddock."

Tex Rickard will get into the "swim" still further by building the largest swimming pool in the world at Madison Square Garden.

Hughie Jennings' sizeup of Ty Cobb's Tickers is that they'll finish one-two-three. Hughie once was considered a good successer.

Mounted police will guard the part-mutual betting booths at Canadian race tracks this summer to insure honesty.

The referee can be a dub. He need know nothing when he steps into the ring except to count from one to ten.

HAMILTONS WIN

Defeat Merrimacks, 13 to 4—Van Zant Fans 11

The Hamiltons defeated the Merrimacks, 13 to 4, on the first street oval last evening in the Textile League series. A large crowd witnessed the game. Van Zant, pitcher for the winners, struck out 11 men. The Hamiltons' lineup was: Van Zant, 1b; Sullivan, 2b; Freeman, 3b; Taylor, 4b; Brice, 5b; Morgan, 6b; Taylor, 7b; Sullivan, 8b; Morgan, 9b; Taylor, 10b; Sullivan, 11b; Morgan, 12b.

How to Hurdle! Champ Tells Secret of Success

EARL THOMSON, DARTMOUTH COLLEGE HURDLING STAR, AND HOLDER OF SEVERAL RECORDS, TAKING A 3-FOOT 6-INCH HURDLE WITH ARMS AND BODY THRUST FORWARD—THE ACTION THROUGH WHICH HE GETS SPEED.

the 120 yds. mark of the I.C.A.A.A., at 14-4-5; the 70-yd. low hurdle (indoor) at 8-2-5, and is joint holder of the 45-yd. (indoor) record of 6 sec., and the 70-yd. (indoor) at 3-2-5.

He has written for The Sun of his experience in hurdling, and is telling everybody in on what he thinks is the real secret of success in that line.

BY EARL J. THOMSON
Everybody naturally thinks it is all in the legs—the art of hurdling. That's a sad mistake, as far as my experience is concerned. The great secret of hurdling is getting to the ground quickly, so as to get a fast getaway for the next hurdle. And in order to do this I make mighty beneficial use of my arms.

Hence, arms are as important as legs in hurdling.

When taking off for a hurdle I thrust my arms forward. This action

TEXILE BOWS TO COLBY

Ninth Inning Flash Snuffed
Out by Poor Base Running
—Score, 6 to 5

Lowell Textile lost a stubbornly-fought game to Colby on the ninth inning yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 5.

The sad part of the malice with the collectors from Maine is that what really ended in a defeat for the future textile agents might well have been turned over into a victory without very much effort. Textile had broken the ninth inning, but poor base running and failure to sustain a batting streak spelled a setback.

The story of the game is principally confined to the first and last innings. In the opening frame, with Blanchard pitching for Textile, Colby jumped to a two-run lead and the visitors never were headed. Blanchard had nothing but a fast ball that he couldn't control and his stay on the hill was short and none on sweet. He was relieved by Ray Farwell in the second inning and the latter did a good job, holding Colby runless after the third frame. The visiting team broke the ninth inning, but poor base running and failure to sustain a batting streak spelled a setback.

Fight "Dope" Bound To Run Rampant

BY MAX BALTHRASAR,
Noted Fight Expert

With Georges Carpentier in America and Jack Dempsey settled in permanent training quarters, interest in the first international world's heavyweight championship contest since Corbett defeated Mitchell is now in the real seething stage and every little cubbyhole in which the least bit of "dope" may be found will be delved into.

For the next few weeks the great question will not be: "Do you think we are going to get into another war?" But—"who do you think will win?"

The rabid Dempsey men will tell you, of course, that he is too big and heavy and hits too hard for Carpentier and therefore is a cinch to win.

"Georges Too Fast"

The Carpentier admirers will tell you that the Frenchman is too fast and too smart; that he also possesses a mighty sweet kick and that he will sail back to France with the title in his pocket.

The Dempsey gang will come back and say that Carpentier's one-round victory over Joe Beckett should not figure, that half a dozen third rate American heavyweights can knock Beckett off with as much ease as Carpentier turned the trick.

DEMPSEY MAY REFEREE

To Handle Leonard-Friedman Bout if Airplane Journey Can be Arranged

CHICAGO, May 18.—If an airplane journey can be arranged, Champion Jack Dempsey will fly from New Jersey to Benton Harbor, Mich., and act as the third man in the ring on July 4, at the Benny Leonard-Samuel Friedman fight. It was announced today by Floyd Fitzsimmons, who closed the match yesterday. The Michigan promoter said he had received Dempsey's promise to referee if he could get there in time after the Carpentier match on July 2, at Jersey City.

CORBETT PICKS DEMPSEY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 18.—James J. Corbett spent several hours yesterday with Jack Dempsey at his training camp at the Airport. Corbett expressed confidence in Dempsey's ability to beat Georges Carpentier in their bout. The former title-holder left the city tonight, but plans to return later in the week.

PENNS. COLLEGE RECORD

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 18.—A new record of consecutive victories in college baseball was set by the Penn State team. The team last year ended the season with an unbeaten string of 11 victories and so far this year, it has won 11 straight games and lost none. With two exceptions the makeup of the team is the same as last year.

LINCOLNS DEFEAT WASHINGTON NINE

The Abraham Lincoln school nine defeated the Washington school team, 6 to 1, Monday afternoon on the 6th. It was the third straight victory for the Lincolns and makes the leaders of Group A of the summer school league. Lawless, the Lincoln twirler, was on the mound for the winners, pitching a no-hit game and fanning 11 men. Last week the same pitcher let the Edison down with but one hit. He received good support from the infield and the grounds were well watered. The score by innings:

Lincolns..... 1 0 1 1 0 1 1 2—5-5
Washington..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1-1

Batteries: Lawless and Crowe; Garty and Lorraine.

Dempsey Wins From Johnson Despite Broken Ribs

DEMPSEY'S FIRST TRIP TO NEW YORK WAS IN THE ROLE OF A REAL RUBE. THE NEXT TIME HE WENT EAST IT WAS UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF JACK KEARNS.

By HAL COCHRAN
This story of Jack Dempsey's career has been written for The Sun by Hal Cochran on information furnished by Dempsey himself. The rest was obtained from Dempsey's close acquaintances and official records.

CHAPTER V

When Jack Dempsey stepped into the roped arena at Price, Utah, with George Christian, a colored celebrity, he was in first-class trim. He had trained for two weeks.

The betting was all on Christian. Why not? This husky had knocked 'em all for a goal. The crowd was staggered on a winner take 15 per cent, lower 25 per cent basis. It was scheduled as a 15 round affair, but 14 of them fell by the wayside.

Dempsey scored three knockdowns in the first frame, and the third one was for keeps. He drew $250, his biggest success thus far.

Jack was then matched with a battler, at Fly, N. Y. He was offered 25 per cent. "And, brother! Did I take it? You know I did!" Dempsey laughs as he recalls this affair. At the time, he didn't even know who his opponent was.

It was then that Dempsey took his first ride on the cushions of a train. He had some coin in his jeans.

The man in the other corner turned out to be a winner. Jack licked him in 10 rounds and was paid $135. He then went to Ogden, Utah, and drew $350 for trimming Terry Keller in 10 rounds. A battle with Dick Gilbert followed. Jack won this, picked off several smaller fights and then hooked up with Jack Price, brother-in-law of Hardy Downey, the Salt Lake promoter.

They headed east together—Jack's first trip out of the western states. Was Like a Regular Rube

In New York Dempsey stacked up like a fine looking rube. He was a rank unknown in the fighting game and had a tough time getting any of the regulations governing this contest will also be discussed.

NEW PLAYERS FOR WHITE SOX

CHICAGO, May 18.—Leslie Miller, an infielder from Casa Grande, Ariz., reported to Manager Gleason of the White Sox today. Miller was recommended by George Stovall, a pitcher attending Southwestern university, Georgetown, Tex., who has signed a White Sox contract, stating 18-5 feet, 11 inches tall, and weighs 150 pounds. He will report the first week in June along with R. Osterwald, shortstop on the same club, who was obtained by President Comiskey in the spring.

He was in his 60th year, and had been associated with the bureau since 1901. Previously he was a professor of physics at Wesleyan university. He is survived by a widow.

LOWELL POLICEMEN REPORT 40 KILLED

WILL COVER DRACUT

IN ITALIAN ELECTIONS

Perhaps one of the first small towns in the United States to take action in this respect, Dracut has appointed three policemen to the staff of its guardians of the law. The women selected are Miss Emily Skilton and Mrs. Mary Hearn, already active as Lowell policemen, together with Miss Inan G. Lowell, special policeman here.

ROME, May 18.—According to figures published by the newspaper Il Paese 49 persons were killed in conflicts between factions on election day last Sunday. Ninety-two persons were wounded. The newspaper says: In addition to Rome and Naples, the government candidates were victorious in Turin, Genoa, Florence and Trieste. Of the large cities, the socialists had a majority only in Milan and Bologna.

The latest returns indicate that besides Premier Giolitti, all the members of his cabinet have been re-elected.

ROME, May 18.—Election returns received here today indicate further victories for the constitutionalists, who will support Premier Giolitti in the new parliament. They add 40 to the number of constitutionalist candidates elected. The cities which reported are: Aquila, which elected 13 constitutionalists, three popularists and three socialists; Bari, where 12 constitutionalists, four socialists and three popularists were elected; Perugia, where six constitutionalists, three socialists and one popularist were successful; and Salerno, where nine of the 10 deputies elected are constitutionalists. The tenth is a member of the popular party.

CHAS. J. RICH, NOTED

THEATRE MAN, DEAD

BOSTON, May 18.—Charles J. Rich, manager of the Hollis Street theatre, and the last member to survive the theatrical firm of Frohman, Rich and Harris, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 15 Marlborough street, after an illness of many months.

Born in Boston, Feb. 10, 1855, the son of Isaac B. and Mary (Baker) Rich, Mr. Rich attended the Rice grammar school and the old Chauncy Hall school in this city, later taking a course at Bryant & Stratton's business college. After this he devoted himself to mercantile pursuits until the spring of 1881, when he embarked upon his theatrical career as assistant manager of the Oakland Gardens in Franklin Park, of which his father was then manager.

Mr. Rich retained this position for five years, and in 1882 also became treasurer of Howard Atheneum in this city, succeeding B. F. Tryon.

The Hollis Street theatre opened its doors on Nov. 9 1885, with Mr. Rich as assistant manager and his father, Isaac B. Rich, as manager. Since that time, more than 35 years ago, there has been no break in Mr. Rich's connection with that house, of which he became manager upon the death of his father, in 1908.

Continued

Given careful attention to the fare problem, gave expression to an opinion held by many persons when he stated that he could not see that the slight reduction was likely to add greatly to the income of the company by increasing riding or bringing nearer what he believes is the only remedy for the present unsatisfactory condition of the transportation in this section—namely, adoption of a straight five cent fare to the city limits from Merrimack square.

John B. Curtin, secretary of the home rule committee, was rather more optimistic in his views of the fare schedule. He said that he thought the trustees had given the public a large concession as was possible at this time, and he believed that later the trustees would carry out their promise made to the home rule committee to give Lowell a 20-rides-for-a-dollar ticket.

District Manager Thomas B. Lees stated today that about 55 per cent of the riders on the Eastern Massachusetts street car system have been slightly in excess of two-thirds of a cent on each ride for ticket holder. Of late, Mr. Lees said, the percentage of ticket riders had been decreasing, due, he believed to the lack of steady employment in the mills.

FOR "ROOSEVELT HOUSE" AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, May 18.—A proposal for the erection at Harvard university of a building to be known as "Roosevelt House" was made in a report to the Associated Harvard club by a committee of alumni which was made public today.

The building would contain a working floor for the use of some of the departments of the university, and particularly for the tutorial work of the college, as well as a memorial reading room where Roosevelt memorabilia of all kinds would be kept.

The committee suggested that all books and state papers written by Roosevelt and books written about him, together with hunting trophies and other material relating to him, should be kept in the reading room with the hope that this room "would be resorted to by all who wished to know or write about him."

and local representative of the Florence Crittenton Rescue League. The three new Dracut policemen are to be sworn in by the town clerk in the near future, as the result of a decision by the selectmen of the town. They will then be clothed with the authority to make arrests in that territory, as well as in Lowell proper.

Parks and summer amusement places will be under the watchful eyes of the new appointees, who will also exercise supervision over some of the camps customarily open from June to September. At the same time they will continue their regular duties in this city. Even under former conditions, the three local policemen have been often required, by the exigencies of their work, to visit neighboring places, but have not possessed the police power of arrest when outside of the boundaries of Lowell.

The actual ceremony of being sworn in has been postponed because of the absence from the city of Miss Lowell, who is spending a few days in New York. She will attend the graduation, at a Nyack educational institution, of a young girl in whom she has taken an interest, and whom she met in the progress of her professional work.

Miss Skilton this morning explained to a Sun representative the manifold advantages which police power for the Lowell policemen in Dracut territory will mean. "With the advent of the warm weather, and the closing of most of the city dance halls," she said, "the girls flock to the summer resorts. There are always many Lowell young girls at these places. If they are too young, and are there against their parents' consent, it will be of great value for us to have authority within the borders of Dracut."

Miss Skilton, "for we like to do our work quietly and without ostentation. But perhaps it is known that the summer camps and dance halls are to be thoroughly supervised, and the girls of Lowell, protected, the knowledge may have a beneficial tendency."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performance of "The City of Silent Men," starring Thomas Meighan, and "For the Love of Louise Glauum," the big Cosmopolitan production, will be given at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening. Tomorrow afternoon there will be the usual mid-week change of program. "I Am Guilty" will feature the program for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It stars no less a popular actress than Louise Glauum. It is an absorbing mystery story, lavishly produced, and with a star whose forte is emotional characterization. The story plays the part of a neglected wife who accepts the invitation of a former man friend to take a last fling at pleasure. Following the play, the host meets his death in a mysterious manner and as a result the wife is drawn into the web which is built around the tragedy. A burn on the shoulder, caused by a struggle with the host, caused the guilt to be placed against the neglected spouse. The situation proves to be exceptionally dramatic. Her husband's murder and is employed as the attorney of the defense. Circumstances bring him to the point where he accuses his own wife of the crime. It looks hopeless and the husband gives up the case. To relate any more would be giving the plot away to the spectator. But "I Am Guilty" is dramatic, carries the utmost in mystery and suspense and is finely acted by Miss Glauum, assisted by capable cast.

The other feature for the week-end is "Boys Will Be Boys," one of Will Rogers' funniest and most appealing productions. It is taken from Irvin Cobb's story. The comedy and weekly show is a sufficient guarantee of its merit.

The International News and a comedy will round out the bill. With the announcement of the winners of the "Nine Hunting Contest" to be made in a day or two. Your name may be among the lucky contestants.

OPERA HOUSE

A public reception will be held at the Opera House today by the Lowell Players of Sydney Grundy's delightful comedy drama, "The Circus Girl," by Miss Dorothy Pembroke and Milton Byron, the latter the leading man of the company and the latter the popular second woman of the cast. All of the pictures are cordially invited to remain at the close of the performance and exchange personal greetings with the two players. At tonight's performance troupe photographs will be distributed. At Thursday's matinee performance Miss Knowles and Mr. Barton will hold a reception.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Yvette Rugel, queen of vaudeville singers and without doubt the best singer in the world, is presenting a veritable whirlwind at the B. F. Keith theatre, this present week. Singing songs that everybody knows and dancing in a way that is a pleasure to much of real feeling into her work, in addition to demonstrating a glorious voice. The Sharracks, Harry and Emma, give their vaudeville classic called "Behind the Grandstand," and incidentally throw in a bit of psychic work, while Basil Lynn and William Bowland chatter away and sing a hit. Then there are Anderson and Burt in "Home, Sweet Home," a clever satire on some homes. The Herberts are dancing, singing and giving a good knock-out act. The bill is opened by "Synco," xylophonist.

RIALTO THEATRE

A brand new program, "Partners of the Tide," and "Danger Valley" is the attraction offering of the Rialto theatre beginning tomorrow. The bill includes the usual attractions.

Today is the final opportunity left to see Constance Talmadge in "Mandy," the best of the local season and introduced Miss Talmadge in her best production. The program also includes "High and Dry," a continuation of "The Son of Tarzan" and the Fox News.

William Russell in the best motion picture of his particular brand, "The Branding Iron," is the other feature that brings make the program one of genuine merit. The comedy and weekly show also help in rounding out a bill that will please all.

Technically, with matinee tomorrow and continuing the remainder of the week Tom Mix in "The Road Demon," and Eva Novak in "Society Secrets," will be featured. The former is said to be one of the best daredevil stories that this cowboy star has ever appeared in. Mix loves the daredevil work required of him in motion pictures. He was as happy as a child with a new toy during the making of the racing scenes in "The Road Demon," for let it be known that he shifts from horse stunts to automobile driving, drives his car at record-breaking speed, jumps the road and takes more chances with his life than he ever did outside his horse. Incident to the auto racing, there's a delightful love romance and a good time of comedy. You'll like it immensely.

A Turkish bath and a fresh coat make all the difference in the world in "Society Secrets," which presents Eva Novak in the principal role, one of the humorous situations is the spectacle of an old farmer doling himself up for a brilliant social function in New York and getting by with it beautifully.

Perhaps you have become contented as to salad dressing. This is the way to make real French dressing. 4 tablespoons of olive oil, 2 tablespoons of vinegar, 15 teaspoon of red pepper, 1 teaspoon of salt. Add seasonings to olive oil then add vinegar, little by little, stirring it constantly.

MATERIALS

Crepe moccasin is the exceedingly costly material in which smart Parisians are ordering their winter wraps. Coats of it are quite unobtainable though it is more made ready to sell—too costly, madame!

Economic Blockade by Germans

LONDON, May 18.—German opposition to the Polish insurgents who have occupied most of Upper Silesia appears to have taken the form of an economic blockade. Men employed by German railroads have refused to transport food supplies other than milk, into the district where the Poles have control, and the Reichsbank has declined to send into Silesia the money to pay miners for work done just prior to the Polish uprising. As the allied troops are few, and there is a distinct Bolshevik menace in Asia Minor, propositions have been made the allied high commission that General Wrangel's army, which has been here since it was driven out of Crimea be given the task of policing the straits.

DECATUR, Ala., May 18.—W. F. Seay, a department store clerk, is under arrest charged with the murder of his 19-year-old bride, whose body was found in a mutilated condition on the outskirts of Florence, Ala., Sunday night. After being lodged in jail here yesterday, Seay, who was arrested at Florence as he approached the home of his mother, made an unsuccessful attempt to burn the jail and was said to have later attempted suicide by butting his head against the bars of his cell.

ABOLISHING THE PRIMARIES

New York state has abolished the primary and enacted a law providing that nominations by convention will supersede the direct method to far as candidates for state and federal offices are concerned. The results of the direct primary were disappointing in New York as elsewhere, but the fault lies in the system rather than in any desire of the electorate to elevate inferior men to office.

The Sun suggested a method by which better results might be obtained while retaining the primary; but it has not yet been adopted. It would authorize nominations by a convention of delegates, the list of candidates to be submitted to the voters in addition to those who entered the contest voluntarily. That would extend the field from which the electorate could choose; and yet it would submit all finally to the voters.

In the convention system, the nominations are made regardless of the voters and submitted only at the final election. Under the primary system, as at present conducted, the voters are obliged to choose officials from the list of candidates who enter the field through their own initiative. They may have no qualification for the offices they seek, and the benefit of the public service may be foreign to their intentions. There is no machinery providing for the nomination of the best men available; that is, the best who can be induced to run for office. Here is where the system is weak and this defect can be remedied only by having some body of citizens seek out men who are qualified and have them allow their names to be put forward in the list of candidates. Even if such list were to be submitted to the voters at the primaries in competition with the other candidates, it is safe to say that the voters would select the candidates who were best qualified for the offices sought.

The time is probably not far distant when the primary law will be modified to provide for candidates' nominations to be put before the citizens against the field of voluntary aspirants.

NAVAL DISARMAMENT

Naval disarmament is in the air; it is backed by a strange aggregation of men in congress and elsewhere. Strange to say, Senator Borah, who was one of the irreconcilables in the League of Nations fight is one of the leaders for naval disarmament. He does not seem to think that at this time it would offer an advantage to other naval powers. Whether it would or not, he is for it very strongly.

Among the other advocates of naval disarmament is Congressman Rogers, who in an address before the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia, the other day, pleaded strongly for disarmament, stating that the only thing to be considered is the relative standing of the naval forces of the various powers as compared with that of the United States. On this point he made the following statement:

"The relative naval strength of Great Britain, the United States and Japan may be indicated by the units 21, 20 and 11. But if Great Britain and Japan proceed with their building program and the United States drops hers, then the ratio will be Great Britain 21, Japan 14 and the United States but 12. Thus the combined strength of Great Britain and Japan would be three times that of the United States. Relative strength is the only thing to be considered in mapping out a naval program."

That seems to indicate the present standing and disarmament would mean, perhaps, that this relative standing would be maintained while the agreement existed.

It will be noted that the combined naval strength of England and Japan, heretofore, is represented by 34 units, compared with 20 for the United States. Whether it is entirely safe to disarm in face of such a superior combination at our doors so to speak, is a question that calls for the exercise of wise judgment and true patriotism. Of course it is unthinkable to urge that the United States should drop its naval program while the powers named continue to increase their naval armaments.

WHERE CONGRESS LAGS

One of the things which this nation wants and wants without delay is peace with Germany.

Congress is dawdling over the Knox resolution against which there is considerable opposition, because of its inadequacy as a substitute for a treaty and because it would mean little more than a simple declaration of peace which would probably serve the purpose better.

The business interests of the country would be greatly benefited by a declaration of peace with Germany. Already Germany is establishing trade relations with many other nations but the United States being still technically at war with that nation, we have no diplomatic or other connection with her government. It is high time this situation were remedied. The delay in dealing with this important international question is pointed to by other nations as a result of our form of government.

The republicans in congress are not meeting the expectations of the people in grappling with the many momentous questions to be settled before we can return to settled conditions.

The problems of the tariff, revision of the oppressive taxation system, the budget, naval appropriations, and many other domestic questions are pressing for settlement. Peace with Germany, tariff and taxation reforms are the problems on the proper solution of which depends the restoration of industrial prosperity in this country. It is of the utmost importance to this nation and all its people that congress shall settle these three questions in some form just as soon as possible. The country is tired waiting; the people are tired of idleness.

He reports cases of contagious diseases, electric deaths, gas, incandescent and sunlight lights not burning in stores at night when they should be, obstructions to traffic not lighted. He removes such obstructions as he is able, assists home people who are under the weather, but not obnoxiously, escorts others to the police station, quells disturbances, reports violations of the liquor law, turns in fire alarms, and restores stolen property. Outside of that, except when he's chasing desperate criminals, he doesn't do much of anything. No, he isn't a magician; he's just the policeman on your beat. And the above details of his daily routine are taken almost verbatim from the monthly report of his activities which he turns in at headquarters. ## Long In Learning

It is generally known, says Dr. William E. Barton, that the successful navigation of the atmosphere in machines "heavier than air" was accomplished only after long study of the mechanics and method of the flight of birds. It was a surprise to the builders of these machines when they found it advantageous to modify their first drawings of the body of the car, and shape it like a fish. The first attempts were in an effort to reduce head-resistance, and the cars were built with pointed fronts and blunt sterns. Now the cars of air planes are "streamlined" or shaped like a fish. The wings of the airplane support it in an elevation above the earth as the propeller drives it forward; it is the blunt end of the car that is pushed ahead; the tapering end is at the rear. The inventors discovered that if the blunt end of the car, the suction behind. So the plane pushes rear and leaves the air behind it. Its blunt end is not an edge. Now the announcement is made that boats also may be modified by changes in the construction of the stern so as to lessen the suction and increase the speed. Wonderful are the adaptations of life to its environment. Structural modification of the forms of life to meet the requirements of conditions in which they live is but a theory. It becomes the wonder of the learned and becomes the more remarkable as we know more about them. Creation is very full of mysteries and of things understood in part only. As we learn a little here and a little there we are profoundly impressed with the wisdom which undergirds the whole universe and continually operates through its widely various forms. But whatever we discover is of something planned long before our discovery. While we make our blundering advances in the field of knowledge, we gradually approach to some aspects of truth which were manifest in the creation. We learn slowly what God knew first.

A Tale of Woe

Here's a dainty little story, which you might not think is true; but if you use city water, it may happen unto you. At the end of last December, which concludes the fiscal quarter, a landlord of this village got his bill for three months water. It was seventeen shillings, which didn't seem so bad, since drinks of hampers were included longer to be had. The water-meter, use, and he figured that the total was a right for so much juice. But alas, a week later marked the passing of New Year. For a gang of germs diphtheria decided to diphtheria. Invading his apartments, these germs spread their woe. Top-floor tenants had high fever; basement tenants were laid low. Now the water-meter reader came a-sneaking down the lane. He walked right in, he read the card, he walked right in again. "Diphtheria!" he muttered, as he flowed back to his leader. "I'll not read that water-meter," said the water-meter reader. "I'll meet the golds-damper, and fearlessly defeat her, in any way."

The reader said, "save read that water-meter." Said the leader of the reader, "You don't need to read the meter. It is far more nice to guess the price. 'Tis safer, if not 'newer.' Said the reader to his leader, "Now whatever could be sweeter?" So the leader of the reader and the reader of the meter, they both said "Yes," and made a guess, and didn't read the meter.

Now the landlord aforementioned, whose name, it chanced, was "Doc," each rent day seems to get the rent, unfailing as the clock. He didn't care if germs were there in many a room. He said his prayers, went up the stairs, and garnered in the rent. At last the first of May arrived, as such days always will, and with it "Doc" received a shock—his quarter-water bill. It was ninety-seven dollars. He saw that before he failed.

But that's a fairly decent guess for city workers, ain't it? The language which our "Doc" employed was forceful, if not pretty. But he ought to have remembered he was dealing with the city. For one great truth from ancient times through history has come down, that your brains are microscopic. Start working for the town. You can get away with water; you don't need to use your brain. And if you doubt these statements, go and have a chat with "Doc."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Perhaps with special reference to the unemployment among ex-service men, which is prevalent in Lowell as elsewhere, the U. S. navy recruiting station located at the main postoffice here, issues the following information. There are seven various trade schools which ex-service men with the proper qualifications may attend by joining up with the sea forces of the nation. Three of these are located at Hampton Roads, Va., and are the patternmakers, machinists' mates, and copper-smiths' schools. There is also a machinist's mate school at Great Lakes, Ill. There are gunner's mates' schools at Newport, R. I., and Washington, D. C. There are torpedomen and muscians' schools at Newport, and a radiomen school at Great Lakes, Ill. The lowest pay that can possibly be received is $33 monthly, which is in addition to food, a clothing allowance, medical attention, lodgings or uniforms, other advantages. A "C.P.O." draws down at least $50, besides all living expenses, and with allowances, some go as high as $75 a week, and even higher.

About 23 million copies of newspapers are now sold daily in the United States. Practically everybody reads a newspaper. Hence the average paper is read by four persons. In many communities the popular paper has an average of five readers for every copy sold. That is undoubtedly true of The Sun. This should interest advertisers. Incidentally, we wonder how many times a paper is read after you throw it into your wastebasket and before it reaches the machine that makes it into pulp that, in turn, becomes straw-boards or wrapping paper. For who, except a rag picker, can resist glancing at the headlines of a newspaper, no matter how old it may be or where it is discovered? Housewives, who in changing newspapers on pantry shelves step to read the headlines or look at the pictures, will vouch for that.

One rarely hankers for the return of an entertaining company of players, ordinarily one appearance is enough, but I think those who heard John Anderson's company of Scottish players last week, brought here by the Notre Dame Alumnae, will agree with me when I say that a return engagement by the same company would be justly appreciated. These players dramatized and musically interpreted the meter and idea of Robert Burns' poem, "Cotter's Saturday Night," to a nicety and those who were present regretted that there was but one act instead of three to the sketch. The age-old philosophy of the immortal bard of Scotland, brought out in a most artistic manner, had a distinctive place in the dialogue. The affair was refreshingly different from anything of its kind ever seen here before. The martial airs of Scotland inspired all and quickened many a step. The ballads like Loch Lomond and others were sung in irreproachable style. It was a rare treat, a rare evening and a delightful presentation. As John Anderson said just before the curtain went down:

"From scenes like this old Scotland's grandeur springs. Beloved at home, revered abroad; Princes and lords are but the breath of kings."

An honest man's the noblest work of God."

Mohammed spilled nearly a whole afternoon of colorful adjectives when he set out to describe the joys of a paradise reserved for his faithful followers. Mirth, music, laughter, song, perpetual youth, unceasing feasting and wine-drinking, with appetites never satiated, to say nothing of star-eyed dancing hours, were part of the bliss that he pictured. He neglected to mention one factor of joy in his entertainment program, however, and that was the presence of a better day. I should like to see it become the "fashion" for men to wear clean white duck suits in summer. I tried it once, but the conviction that it was attracting more attention than I was attracted to, led me to return to more conventional regiments. But, think of the lightness, cleanliness, coolness of cotton clothing!

SCIENCE SERVICE

The Smallest Living Thing On Earth

By E. E. FREE

Everyone knows nowadays about the bacteria, some of which cause disease, and which are so small as to be visible only through the most powerful microscopes.

It is not so well known that there exist living creatures still smaller than these, so small in fact that they have never been seen at all and probably never will be.

The smallest thing which can be seen under a microscope is about one thousandth of a millimeter, about one four-hundred-thousandth of an inch in diameter. About one hundred million of these smallest visible creatures could rest comfortably on the head of a pin—nearly as many as there are people in the United States. These are the visible ones. The invisible ones are, of course, much smaller, but how much smaller nobody knows with any exactness.

Are They Real?

Right here, probably, some skeptic will inquire how, since these things are invisible, we know anything about them. Are they real, or are they merely a myth of the scientists? They are very real, and though we cannot see them their existence is beyond question.

The method by which bacteriologists have discovered them and investigated their nature depends upon the use of special filters. Everyone is familiar with the filtering of cloudy liquids through paper or cloth. The suspended solid particles are retained by the paper but the liquid itself runs through the very small holes in the paper and comes out clear. Scientists have many other kinds of filters and some of these can be prepared with holes so small as to catch even the smallest of the visible bacteria, allowing the liquid to come through bacteria-free.

Suppose now that we are dealing with a disease which we suspect of being caused by invisible bacteria. The foot and mouth disease of cattle is one. We know that this disease can be transmitted from a sick to a healthy animal by means of the watery fluid which forms in the blisters characteristic of the disease.

We take this fluid and filter it, so that no visible bacteria remain in it. It still produces the disease when injected into healthy animals. Furthermore these new animals develop the typical disease, not merely an illness which might be due to something poisonous in the fluid.

Boiling Kills Them. Also from these new sick animals fluid can be drawn again and filtered and will again cause the disease. But if any of these filtered fluids be boiled, to kill all life in them, the disease is not produced.

These facts cannot be explained otherwise than as the result of living creatures, probably much like ordinary bacteria, which are small enough to pass through the filters and too small to be seen at all. What their actual size is, we do not know.

Fools' Gold
By Berton Bruley

We've come to the end of the rainbow,
The spot that we sought of old;
But here, at our journey's ending
Is never a pot of gold;
So the guerdon we dreamed of gaining
That tempted us with its gleam
Is only a vague illusion—
The gold was the gold of dream!

We've come to the end of the rainbow,
But shall we then complain
That all of our light was wasted
And all of our quest was vain?
Why, we've faced the work and struggle,
We've weathered the rain and sun,
We've followed the self-same vision—
Our dreams and our hopes were one!

So, if at the end of the rainbow,
No pot of gold we find,
Our long, long years together
Were gold of another kind;
Gold of a love unflinching
Which even in quest to spend;
(And this may be what the fable meant
By "gold at the rainbow's end.")

THE WIRELESS BABY BUGGY SINGING TO THE SCHENECTADY TWINS

BABY GOES BYE-BYE NOW IN WIRELESS BUGGY!

Enter the radio baby buggy!

Wonderful things can be accomplished by it.

Music played hundreds of miles away can lull the baby to sleep.

Mother can call up by wireless to ascertain how baby is. Thus she will be more at ease while shopping or playing bridge.

If the park cop and the nurse want to take a little stroll, she says, "Just wait till I start the wireless music so the kid won't squeal!"

Dad can wheel the babe around the block and when mother has the table set she can call him home.

Variations are endless.

The first wireless baby buggy has been made by the Union College Radio Club of Schenectady, N. Y. Lullabies issue from a horn on the perambulator as it is wheeled through the streets.

The buggy supports a receiving set of three wires stretched on two bamboo poles. The storage battery rests on the carriage "chassis" and the sound amplifier is hidden under the canopy.

The music is sent from the Union College radio station. It can be heard at radio stations 1200 miles away. A ship 700 miles at sea has heard it. Stations in 24 states and provinces of Canada have reported hearing it.

The club has been giving wireless concerts once a week for several months and is now sending out sermons by Dr. C. A. Richmond, president of the college. The sermons are sent out on Sunday nights and are accompanied by reading of the doxology and singing of hymns.

At 75, America's Greatest Railroad Engineer Is Starting Out for Himself

By LINTON WELLS
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 18.—He's beginning when most men finish.
But William Hood, aged 75 and acknowledged dean of the engineering profession in the United States, is a different kind of a man from the usual run.
He started his engineering career as an ax-man with the old Central Pacific railroad, now the Southern Pacific, at Sacramento, Cal., in 1865. Some of the most amazing railroad engineering feats of the age are credited to him.
Recently Hood quit the Southern Pacific to go into business for himself. Things were getting too slow in the railroad game. The company had announced a program which called for little or no work in his line.
Life without action seemed intolerable to this old-young man, so he resigned on the fifty-fourth anniversary of his starting work with the company.

Intended to Retire Sooner

"I should have retired from the Southern Pacific and started for myself five years ago," Hood declares, "but the company requested me not to, so I stayed on."

Six months ago he requested that he be permitted to retire. It was purely a matter of sentiment, Hood explains, that led him to designate the fifty-fourth anniversary.

Hood was born in New Hampshire in 1846. At the age of 16 he joined actively, otherwise a coffin would soon be awaiting me.

"For the next few months I expect to attend to personal affairs, and afterward do some writing for publications on engineering subjects."

"After that, I probably will establish headquarters in New York and accept engagements as a consulting engineer concerning projects of a kind for which I feel that I have had enough experience to enable me to be a competent adviser."

Despite his advanced age, Hood is alert and in robust health; he looks twenty years younger than he is.

Six Days Seldom

He works standing up before a huge drawing board and never sits down except to sign his name. During a day he is not seated for more than twenty minutes.

Every Sunday finds Hood in the open country, usually alone, a camera over his back, a stick in his hand, tramping for the fun of it.

I asked him how he managed to keep so healthy and active despite his 75 years. He smiled, and replied: "Most people take credit on themselves for their health, but not so I. I was born healthy. I have lived reasonably well, and I couldn't spoil myself if I tried."

PREMIER HUGHES SENDS MESSAGE TO AMERICA

By Newspaper Enterprise
CHICAGO, May 18.—America and Australia have identical problems in the Pacific, says William M. Hughes, prime minister of Australia, in a message to America.

The message of Hughes was sent through W. D. Boyce, Chicago and Indianapolis publisher, who went to the island to write a series of articles.

Australia is "the white outpost of the Pacific," says Hughes.

He will soon visit America on his way to London to attend a conference of the prime ministers of all British possessions.

He was once umbrella mender, then wharf laborer in the country over which he held the guiding hand.

Hughes' message, in part, reads: "We cannot ignore the fact that the bond of blood and language has been strong enough to hold the United Kingdom despite the machinations of mutual enemies."

"Nor can we forget that we fought and bled together in the greatest war of all time. In our outpost of the British empire, Australians have realized to the full the significance of this mutual regard."

"Not only to us—but to the whole world—the continued friendship of the two great Anglo-Saxon races means peace and progress."

"It is in Australia look to the sister democracy of America for co-operation in problems of mutual concern."

"Our destiny, like the destiny of young western states, lies in the Pacific. On the shores of this vast ocean are gathered the bulk of the peoples of the earth. They differ in language, ideals and religions."

"The rapid modernization of many of these peoples may increase, rather than diminish, the problems which inevitably arise where peoples of different races congregate."

"So we feel that we—the white outpost of the Pacific—may look to the United States with a confidence born of mutual ideals."

"In our hands lies the destiny of the Pacific, and in our common task lies our strongest bond of friendship."

These Are Lowell Cases:

CROWLEY STREET

Capt. W. A. Dolan, city fireman, 55 Crowley street, says: "I have suffered with my kidneys mostly when I have caught cold which has settled in my back. There has usually been a constant aching there and my back has been very stiff and sore. I have bought Doan's Kidney Pills at McKoy's Drug Store and they have given me relief."

Time Strengthens Confidence
Nearly three years later, Capt. Dolan added: "I have as much confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I endorsed them before."

PUFFER STREET

Mrs. H. M. Lorrain, 35 Puffer street, says: "I had severe attacks of backache and couldn't rest at night. In the morning I was as tired as when I went to bed. I often had dizzy headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly and annoyed me. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family with benefit, so I got a supply and used them. They soon had my back strong and well and I felt like a different woman. I am always glad to endorse Doan's."

B STREET

John Lorrain, 93 B street, says: "I was troubled a lot with my back. There was a steady pain in the small part and it was very weak and sore, and stiff at times, especially if I bent over or did any lifting. At times the kidney secretions were scanty and caused much annoyance. They were also highly colored. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and I might say they have cured me, for it has been some time since I have had any trouble."

NEW YORK STREET

Mrs. Roy Laurie, 153 New York street, says: "I had attacks of kidney trouble and my back bothered me. I felt weak and languid and often had dizzy headaches. I knew my kidneys were causing the trouble, for they were weak. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. The dizziness and headaches left and I was free from that dull, tired feeling. My kidneys also became regular in action."

Mrs. Laurie gave the above statement on May 5, 1917. And on February 17, 1919, she added: "I have had no return of kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

BOARD SAID TO FEAR PUBLICITY

Commerce Chamber's Directors Voted to Keep Initiative Workers' Names Secret

Plans Made for Active Campaign for Gathering Signatures to Petition

Stated That No Coercion of Workers by Employers Will Be Supported

Interest continued unabated today in the hidden identity of the members of the chamber of commerce's board of strategy which is actively engaged in formulating plans for a campaign to gather several thousand signatures to an initiative petition dealing with street construction by contract.

It was learned today that the names of the strategists are being kept secret in accordance with a vote of the board of directors of the chamber at a meeting Monday. It is understood that the action was taken because of a feeling that it publicly given to the names of the men charged with the work, they might suffer in their business or professional relations through being connected with pushing forward a movement that, it is thought, may result in a bitter fight between those who favor and those who oppose the proposed change in methods of street construction.

Still a Mystery

It was recalled today that the origin of the chamber's report on the condition of the streets of the city, which was transmitted to the municipal council some time ago, and is in a sense the basis for the present petition for the initiative, has been kept shrouded in mystery. When the report was presented to the council, Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy asked Secretary-Manager George F. Wells to make known the names of the persons who had made the survey on which the report was based. This request was refused with the intimation that the names might be made known at some future time.

The members of the initiative strategy board met at 11 o'clock this morning to consider the plans that had been outlined for gathering signatures to the petitions that the public is to be asked to sign.

Members of No Coercion
The committee, it is known, is anxious not to have the impression get abroad that members of the chamber, who are large employers of labor, will be supported in any attempt to line up their workmen and get their signatures for the basis for the petition as a result of bringing pressure to bear. As soon as the petitions are received from the printer copies will be sent to all of the 1100 members of the chamber asking each one of them to secure the signatures of at least ten registered voters. With the letters will go a stamped addressed envelope for the basis for the petition. Plans are also being formulated for placing the petitions in stores all over the city where they will be readily available for persons who wish to sign them.

To Scrutinize Names
It is expected that arrangements will be made to have every name attached to the petitions when they are returned subjected to a careful scrutiny by representatives of the chamber to determine whether the signers are registered voters and whether or not the signatures correspond exactly with the names on the election commission's lists. It is probable that the chamber will also have a representative present when the names on the petitions are canvassed by the election commissioners.

Members of the chamber's committee appointed to draw up the petition and accompanying order for presentation to the municipal council were busy today giving careful attention to the legal phraseology of the documents.

Asks Public to Aid in Rounding up Aliens

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A plea for public aid to the immigration service in apprehending aliens illegally in this country, was made today by Commissioner General Hunsbald. He cited the case of 40 East Indians, deserters from a ship, picked up in Connecticut, "while former service men were walking the streets without work." The East Indians are held at Boston. If President Harding signs the immigration restriction bill, the commissioner said, all the immigrants it would admit probably would arrive within five months, permitting a reduction of employees at stations thereafter.
